Our World . . . . Welcome To It

On the wings of the Kissinger bird, peace finally arrived. The end of the longest war in the history of the United States was, however, not followed by dancing in the streets but rather a sigh of relief from all countries involved in the endurance race.

Whether or not this peace was attainable before the presidential election is immaterial now. Politics is an evil, but necessary factor in the running of a democracy. The absence of that evil would result in a legislative system hung up in parlimentary procedure and would therefore accomplish nothing.

Our theme for the 1972-73 edition of the Centripetal, CONTINUITY, is to convey how the events and accomplishments of the system relate to Central. We view the happenings of the world as a set of child's dominoes set on end and lined up one behind the other. When the first domino is hit the rest fall in succession. As in the world, when the first or most important problem is solved the rest fall in place accordingly.

This book is meant to tie the first domino-peace with the last domino-us.

A wasted season — no state title and no Show Bowl through the 'It will never happen' attitude of High School Athletic Commissioner Hilton Murphy. The 'It' refers to the situation where in a team is eligible for both a chance at the city title and state recognition. The 'It' also happened.

Scott was eligible for both contests and since one team could not play two games in one week (the Shoe Bowl on Thursday; state finals on Saturday) Central was chosen as the alternate contender for the red division on Thanksgiving.

As it was the Bulldogs choked in the semi's and came home to play on Turkey Day. But suppose they had won. Is it fair to ask a team to play for second place? This would have been the case had Central gone to the annual charity match. Through the eyes of an outsider — yes, definitely a wasted season.

But one look at the standings proves the outsider is blind. Central's 1972-73 Varsity Football Team boasts the best record since 1962 with seven wins, one loss, one tie; a number one spot in the state computer rating one week before the end of the season, number three at the end of the season behind Scott and Fremont Ross; runner-up in the red division; keeping the Irish Knight; a victory over Cleveland St. Joe; the Times player of the year award for senior tackle Barney Renard; all-state honors for Renard and three other senior men, Gary Zolciak, Chuck Istler and Bob Lindsay.

I ask you, 'wasted?'

Senior Casey Dodson (64) boldly eyes the enemy in Irish bout for Carone Trophy. Below: Determined (senior) Hugh Ross (24) struggles for balance as he advances the ball for valuable yardage against the Bulldogs.

Celtics Surprise City Powers; Tie For Red Division Title

It was almost a repeat of the football season. One long string of 'ifs' for a shot at the city title. If St. Francis would've beaten DeVilbiss and if we would've beaten Start we would've made it to the city championship game. One long string of 'ifs.' But one 'if' people forgot about in basketball and football was if we would've beaten DeVilbiss in the first place we would've had that berth.

A 14-5 overall record was nothing to be ashamed of and qualifying the season by saying 'if so and so would've lost . . .' didn't say much for what the team did do. It's like the saying, 'A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.' We had a share of the Red Division title and it's something to be proud of.

Frannies Fall

'72 Irish Diamondmen Take City Title

Smarting from a 13-1 defeat at the hands of St. Francis in regular season play no one envisioned a victory for the Irish diamondmen against their long standing rivals in the city championship game.

Held June 5, 1972 at Bowman #1 the Irish did a complete about face in their second meeting with the highly favored Frannies.

Lead by the pitching of Jim Joyce '73 who gave up only four hits in the 11 inning session, Central racket up a 3-1 decision over the boys from Bancroft Street. This was the second city title since '68.

Excellent pitching for both teams accounted for the low score but the excitement produced was anything but low.

In the top of the eleventh, things began to click for the Irish. With Tim Birie '72 and Ken Klonowski '72 both on base because of walks, Terry Kwiatkowski '73 was at the plate. On the first pitch Klonowski stole second. Both runners scored on a single off Kwiatkowski's bat.

Joyce finished the inning striking out the remaining three batters.

Coach Fran Krompak takes time out to explain the next strategic move to junior starter Kathy Costain.

Irish Gals Dominate Red; Falter In City Title Game

An unfortunate break in basketball continuity came with the 39-29 loss of Central's Girls' Varsity team to Bowsher. For the first time in four years the girls failed to capture the city title.

The Rebels proved to be a thorn in the side of both the guys and girls varsity teams by handing the men the defeat which knocked us out of tournament competition and giving the girls their only loss in regular season play.

The team, consisting of three seniors, five juniors, four sophomores and two freshmen not only received instructions by Miss Frances Krompak, head coach, but benefited from the experience of senior varsity player Terry Murnen and interested fathers of team members.

Freshmen Are Overwhelmed By Welcoming Assembly

To freshman entering Central the task of merely getting through the day seems monstrous enough. But compounded with upperclassmen shoving you into garbage cans, selling you tickets to a non-existent swimming pool on a non-existent fifth floor, and telling you that room 6 is in the music building when you are ten minutes late for class already, makes the task seem utterly impossible.

The comment, "We were never that dumb," echoed by the remainder of the student body (most loudly by the Sophomore Class since they were the last to be freed of the freshman stigma) is, however, not true. For every student at Central has been or is a freshman and all freshmen are to some extent ignorant of Centralife. It is only by experience that we learn the ways of high school and the status of FRESHMAN is the first step in that learning process.

Eager and confused freshmen stampede the entranceway to the gym in anticipation of their first assembly as "Baby Irish."

Gary Zolciak '73 and Steve Dartt '74 use violent means to welcome incoming frosh, Mark Holmes, to Central.

Cathy Coyle and Julie Weaver '76 receive a round of applause from their peers, upon invading the gym.

Rev. Neil Lucas, dean of students, makes many new friends among all the mass confusion.

The frosh, underdogs in most situations, chugged ahead to lead the school in float competition.

The Senior class present their hard work from long hours of labor. Right: Talented and energetic seniors Tim Ireland and Gene Hankenhof display their ten foot masterpiece.

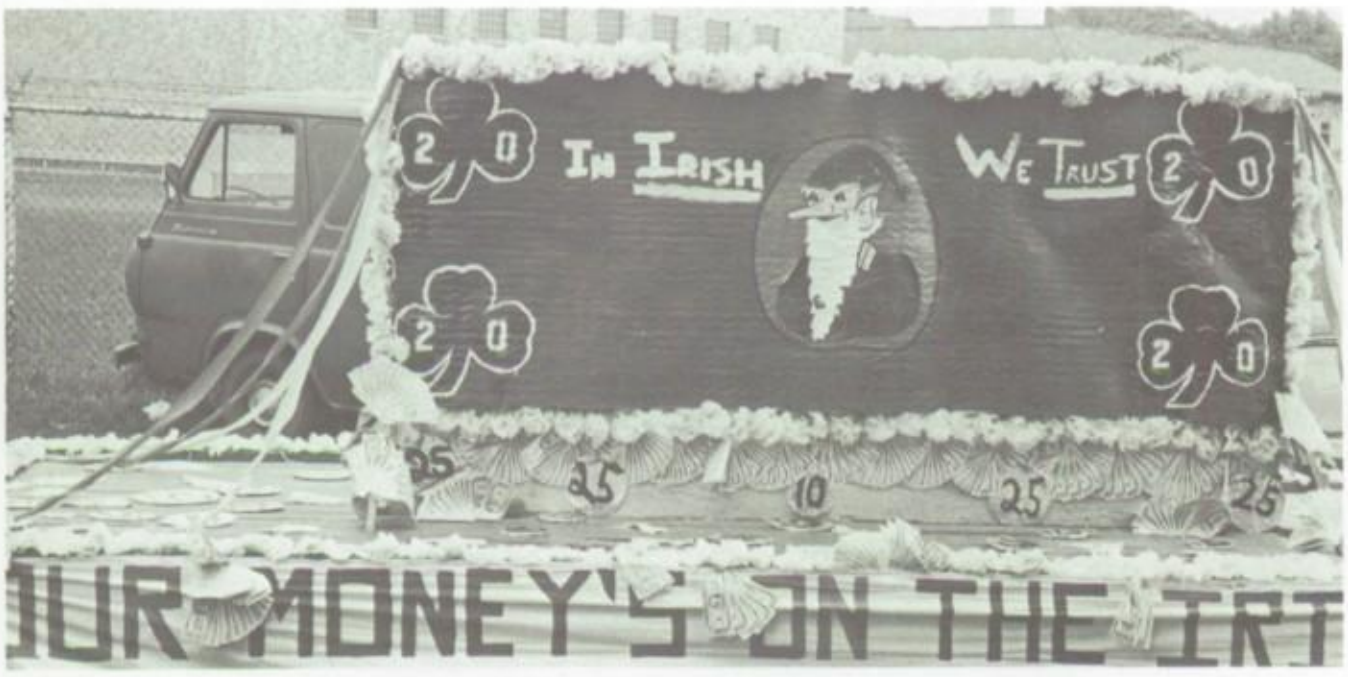
Class Floats Contribute To Irish Victory Over Frannies

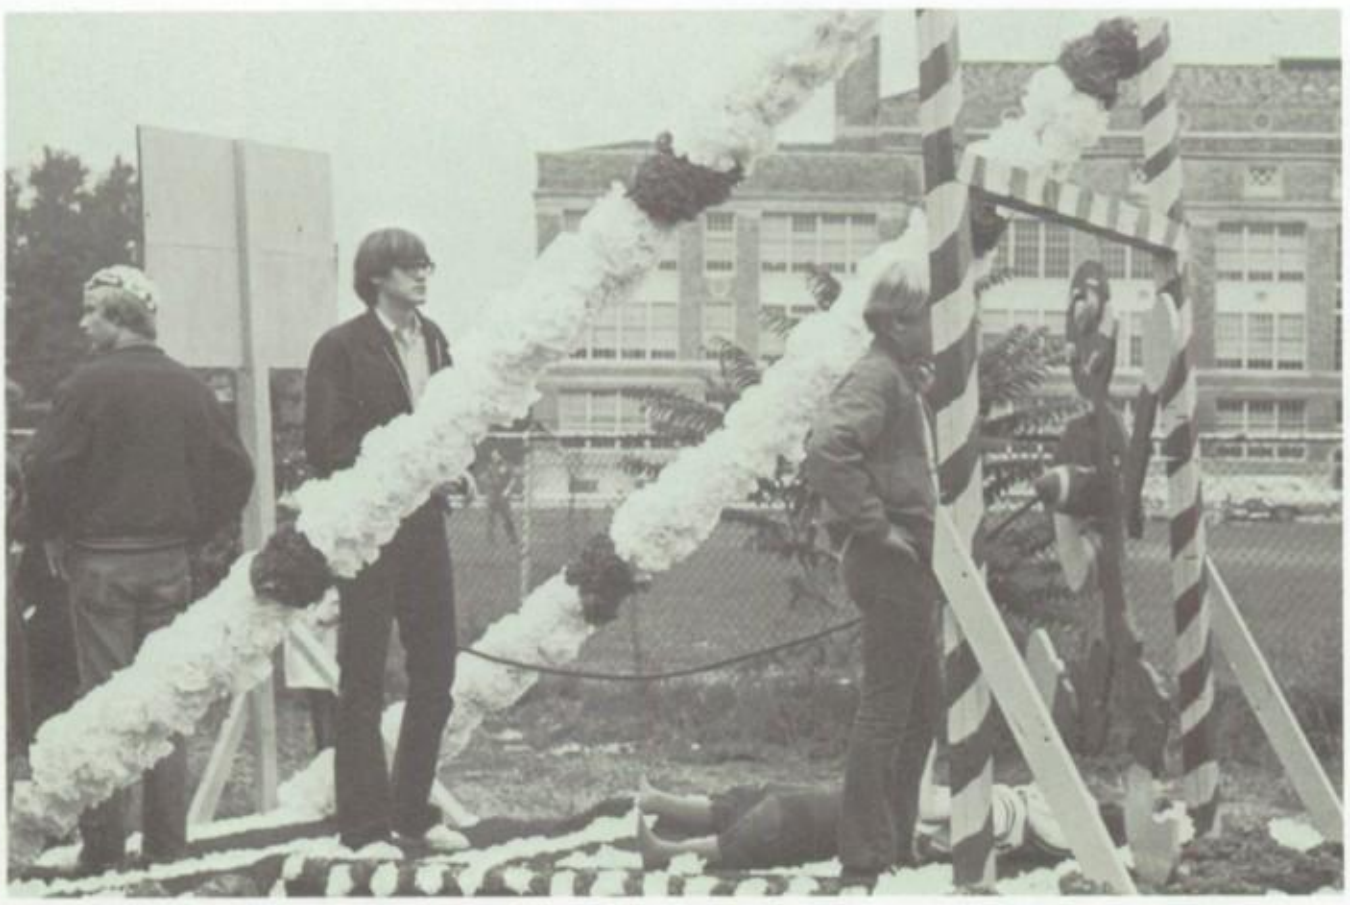
A visitor to the Toledo area on Sunday, September 24 would have found a peculiar sight meandering down Cherry Street. Five floats and 15 as many cars cruised down the public thoroughfare creating noise enough to carry over to Bancroft Street.

As is done every year the floats which lead the caravan were judged by interested members of the faculty according to originality of theme, use of red and gray, and overall appearance.

This year the nod went to the freshmen with their entry in the form of a train entitled 'Chew Chew the Frannies.' First runner up was the sophomore float 'Charge'm Irish,' then the seniors' 'Up Up and Away with the Irish.' Bringing up the rear were the juniors with 'It pays to Win.'

The independent entry was a gigantic Irish Knight transported on a dump truck. This overgrown trophy was a product of seniors Tim Ireland and Gene Hankenhof.





The sophs contribute with their electrifying theme, "Charge 'em, Irish." Above: Juniors know that betting on the Irish is no gamble.

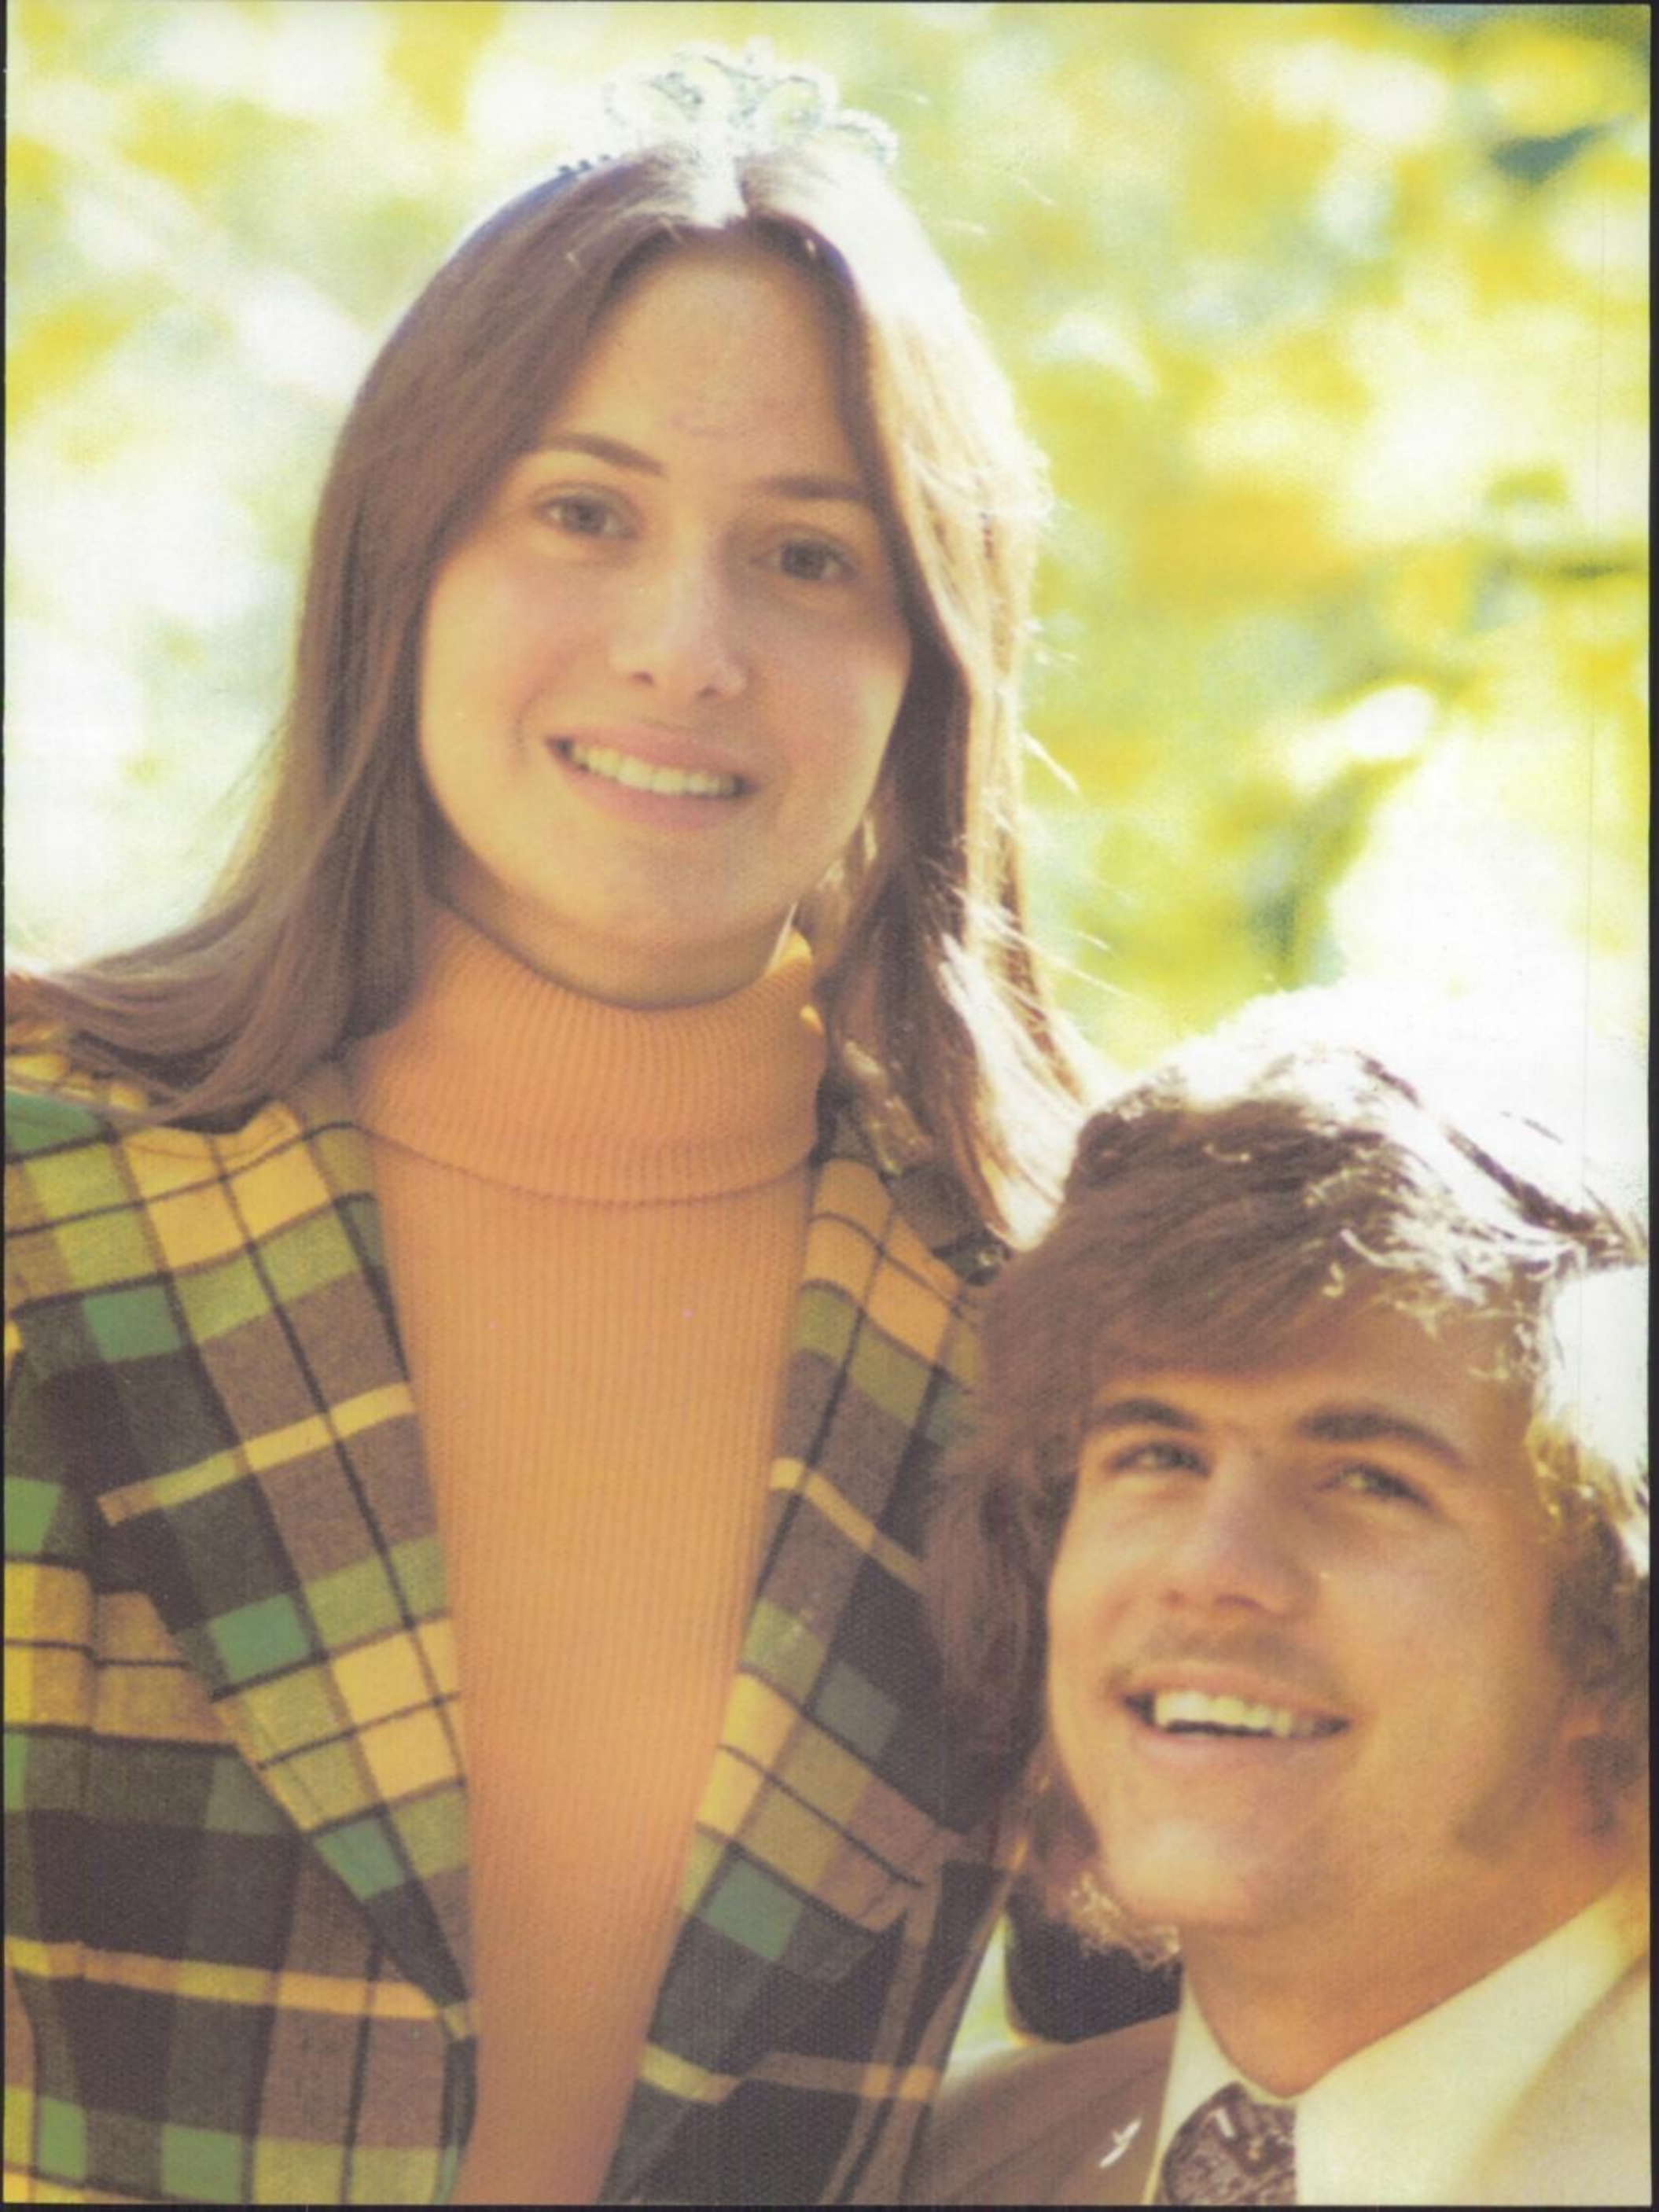
Honored At Devilbiss Game

Beautiful Florence Sheroian Selected To Reign As Queen

Due to the absence of a stadium here at Central, the original concept of Homecoming seems to be lost. Homecoming was begun as a welcoming back of the football team. After two or three games out of town the players were greeted by the student body with an election of a queen and a celebration dance. (The celebration this year was dampened somewhat because of a 14-14 tie with DeVilbiss.) But if you have no stadium in which to return, it is difficult to remember when you are home and when you are visiting.

This year Student Council continued with the original idea in their dance, 'The Homecoming,' by putting the emphasis on football. Decorations in the gym consisted of footballs, goalposts, and megaphones.

The original qualifications of a queen—charm, beauty, and involvement—are all typical of Florence Sheroian, Central's choice for the 1972-73 season. Her court included Tina Skeldon, Mary Pat McCarthy, Deb Geis, and Donna Augello. Even though only one girl receives the crown, everyone is a winner with candidates like these.



Student Talent Abounds In School-Wide Revue

Continuing with the precident set last year, Central's Music Department once again sought out musically inclined students to perform in the second annual Musical Revue.

Staged in Central's gym, the Revue opened to a receptive audience on Oct. 27 and ran through Oct. 29.

Center Stage Revue, a group consisting of 21 Central students formed the foundation for the show, performing a total of eight singing and dancing numbers. The choreography of these numbers was handled nicely by Mr. Craig Barrow '69, who has helped with numerous musical productions in the past, here at Central and Mr. Gene Anthony '60.

In her second year as organizer, Mrs. Carolyn Seeman spent many hours observing auditions, finally selecting the performers and uniting the show. Those participating in the show were Henry Rybaczewski, Pat Bercher, Mary Shonebarger, two Mime troupes directed by Mr. Michael Reitz, the Pandemoniums plus Four, A Group With No Name consisting of Tim Ireland, John Ball, Jeff Rost, Jude Cann, Kevin Bissell, Bill Vedra, Brian Ireland, Eric Ulrich, and Roni Koinis, a comic monologue by Bill Rucki, just to name a few. Master of ceremonies was Thomas Dziegielowski.

Diane Schuller '73 performs in one of Mr. Reitz's mime acts, entitled "The Elf and the Mouse," during Central's school-wide Revue.

Energetic Hilary Sujkowski '73 and Amy Seeman '74 sing and dance to the tune, "Black Bird."

Decorated Halls Incite Spirit Among Classes on Color Day

One of the reasons for our 13-10 loss to Scott cannot be lack of spirit. Spirit was everywhere on Oct. 20 — Color Day '72.

This being an election year the seniors proposed the theme 'Cast Your Vote for the Irish' in an effort to promote spirit. The delegate hats worn by the seniors and the talking computer secured a number one spot in the competition for the seniors.

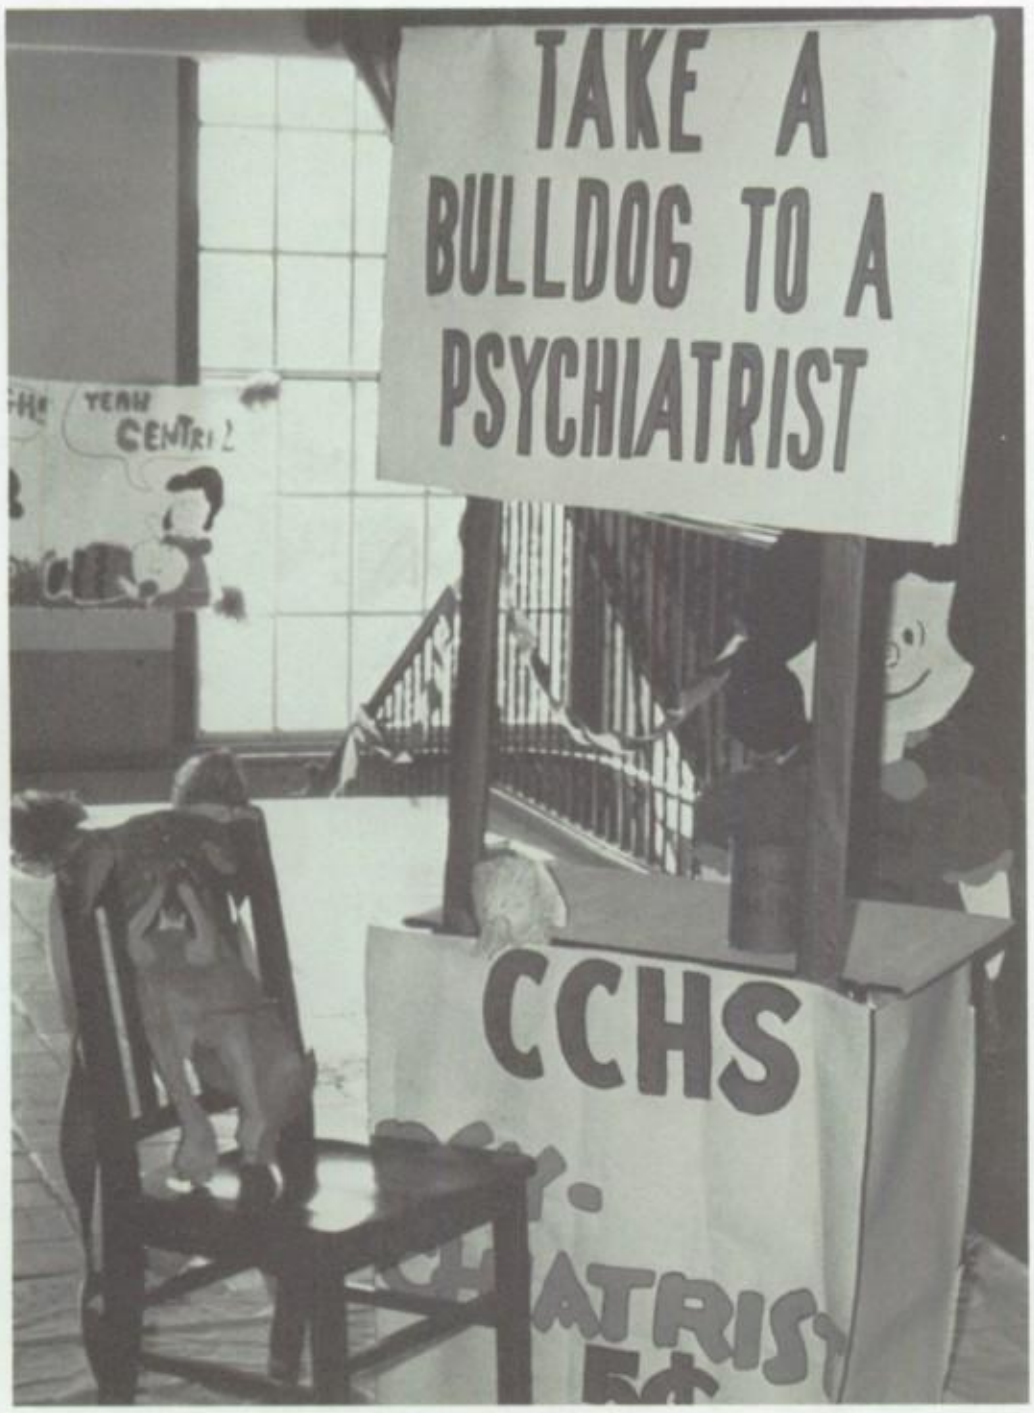
At the freshman end of third floor the Great Pumpkin was seen spreading news of an Irish victory. It was reported that he came out of hibernation eleven days early (Oct. 31 is his usual rising date) because of his loyalty to Central. The noble gourd was quite upset about the loss and the fact that the freshmen came in second in the judging.

When the Peanuts gang from the third ranked sophomore side of third floor heard the noise they rushed over to see what the little freshmen were so excited about. Linus and the Great Pumpkin discussed the possibility of a bribe but then agreed that the seniors deserved first place.

But alas, the fourth place juniors were way off the track when they tried to 'Follow the Footsteps to an Irish Victory.'

Each class is represented, Tim Rose '76, Mary Nester '73, Diane Macke '75, Gene Hankenhof '73, Susan Greismer '75, Mary Jo Raitz '74, and Joan Harpen '74. Above: Seniors with booths and computer cast their vote for the Irish against the Scott Bulldogs.

The ferocious frosh use the Great Pumpkin as their weapon against the Bulldogs. Left: The Junior Class display their team spirit with the clever theme, "Follow the Footsteps to an Irish Victory."



Sophs have what seem to be a Peanuts Gallery up on 3rd floor with the whole gang behind the Irish.

First Annual Contest

SC Adds Sparkle To Christmas Holidays With Door Contest

In the past, if the words 'Student Council' and 'spirit' were mentioned in the same sentence, visions of a pep rally came to mind. Well, this year, continuing with their spirit promoting services, the people participating in student government provided us, not only with spirit in our athletic endeavors, but also with spirit in the yuletide season. The halls of Central were made a little merrier by a door decoration competition and a Christmas tree in the main lobby which was decorated with ornaments contributed by conference rooms and various clubs.

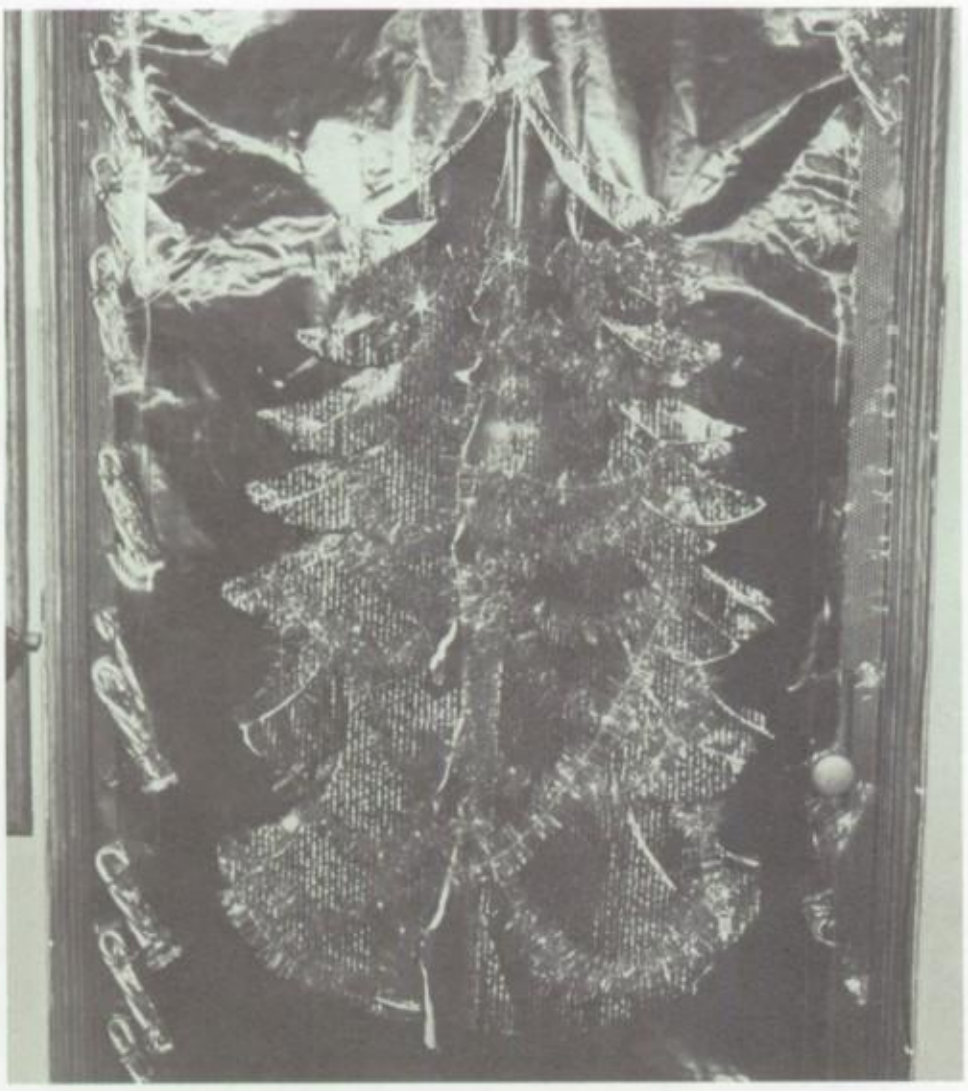
Sr. Shawn's senior girls' entry of Frosty the Snowman ranked #1 with the judges with Sr. Marlene's seniors and Sr. Avolene's sophomores tied for the #2 spot.

Sr. Gemma, room 311, congratulates frosh Tim Long on his creative design for their conference room door.

Sr. Shawn and her ingenious senior women take first place in the holiday door contest with the theme "Christmas Around the World."

Felix Ellerbrock likes the Student Council Christmas Tree because it's fake and there won't be any messy pine needles to pick up.

There was a tie for second place in the door competition. Sr. Avolene's juniors decorated their room with assorted presents. Left: Sr. Marlene's senior class uses candy canes to add flavor to their Christmas tree.



Songs Spark High Spirit

Musicians, Vocalists Spread Christmas Joy at Peristyle

Gerald V. DePrisco conducts the band through a Christmas wonderland at the annual "Sounds of Christmas" which was held at the Peristyle.

Tradition is the game and music is the name of the seventh annual Christmas Concert held Sunday Dec. 17, 1972 in the Toledo Art Museum's Peristyle Theatre.

While long held traditions and customs concerning everything from God to behavior are being thrown out the window, Central's annual concert remains consistent with each of the preceding years in its musical selections. As stated by Mr. Gerald DePrisco, director of the program, "If you add anything new, it's just not the same Christmas form. People like to be able to recognize the traditional songs and selections."

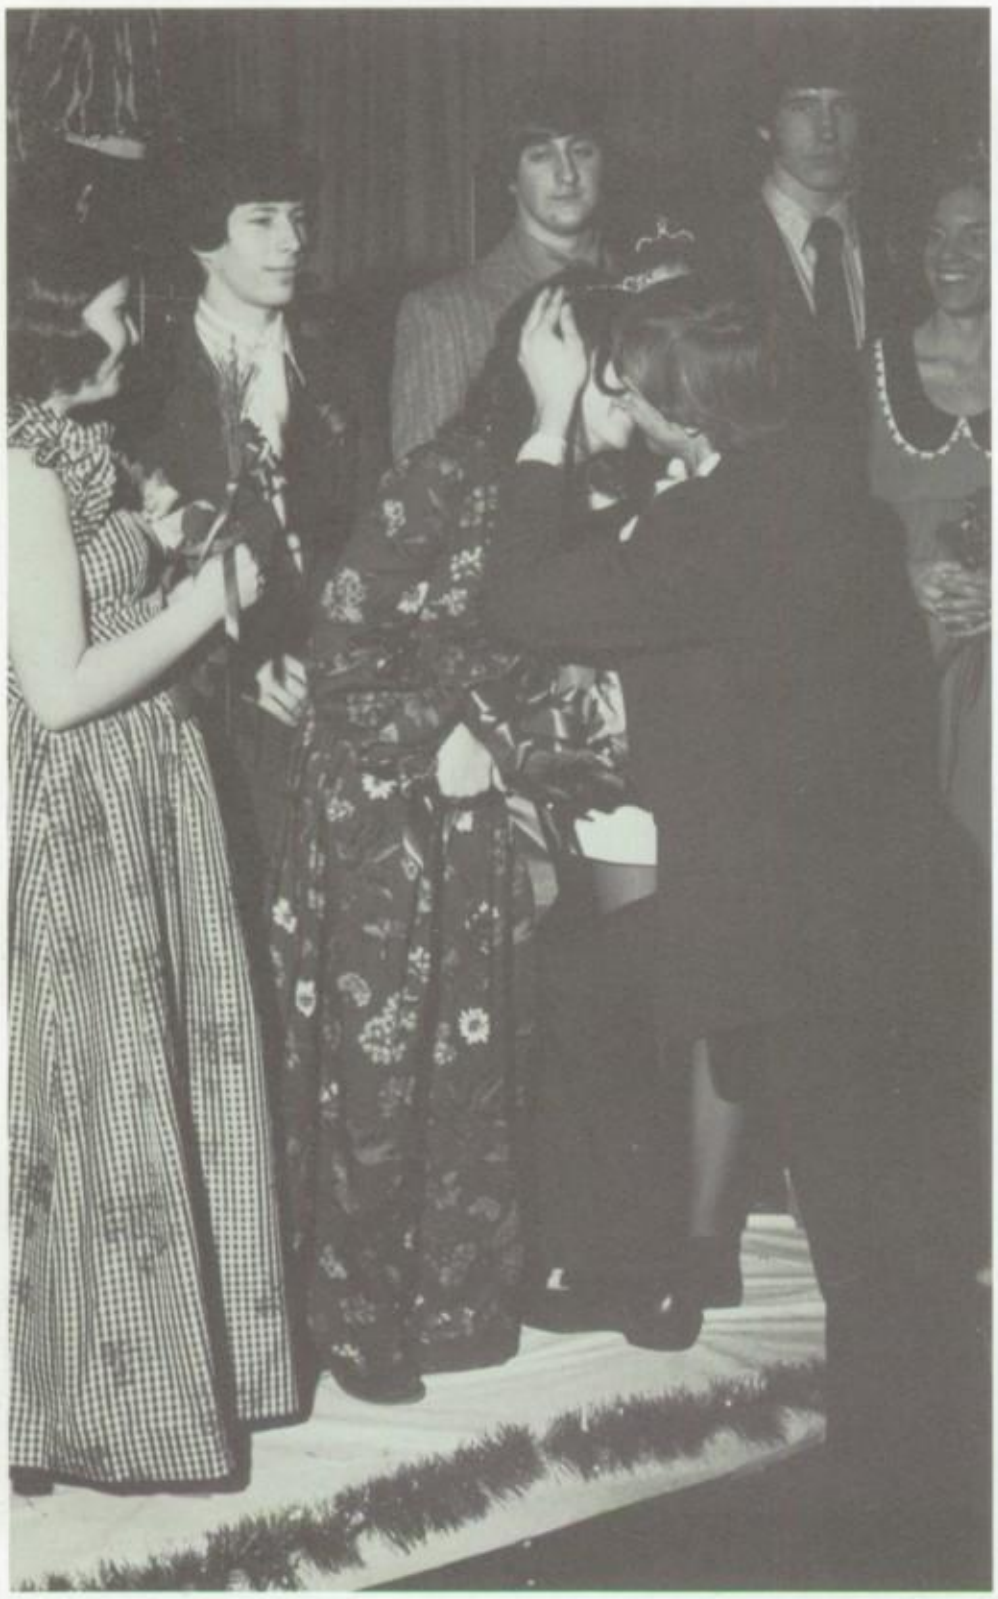
Those involved in presenting the 'traditional songs and selections' were the Senior Glee, Girl's Concert Chorus, Freshmen Girl's Chorus, Boy's Chorus, Band, Orchestra and Dancing Irish.

The girl's Concert Chorus add their voices and talent during the seventh annual "Sounds of Christmas."

The Glee Club, directed by Carolyn Seeman and accompanied by the band and the orchestra, spark the Christmas spirit once again with their annual performance.

Christmas Spirit Evident

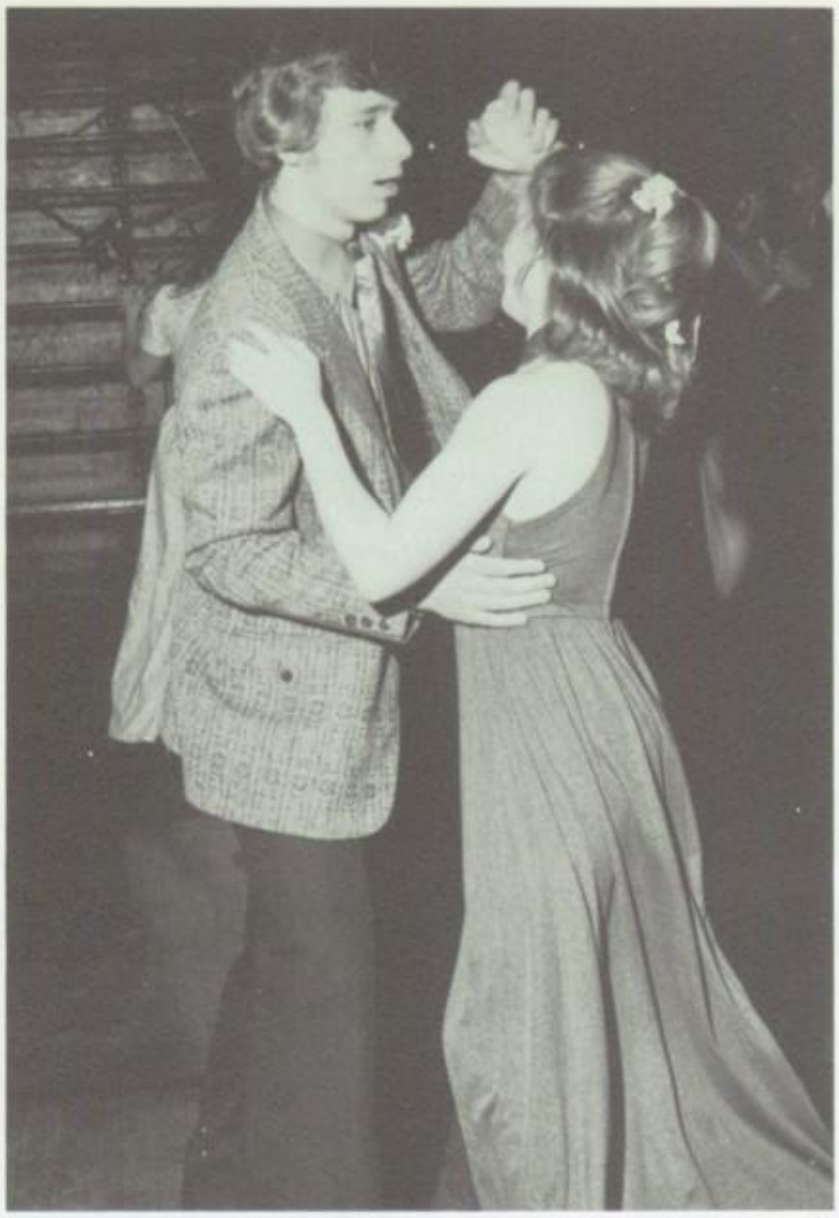
Tina Skeldon Reigns Over Festive "Holiday Happening"



To an unaware frosh, 'Varsity Drag' conjures up the idea of an exclusive party attended by varsity and their dates. In order to dispel this myth, the class of '73 completely rennovated the annual event this year by pushing the date from Christmas vacation to before the climatic 25th. They therefore employed a Christmas theme and changed the name to 'A Holiday Happening!' By ridding the occasion of the 'athletes only' tone, underclassmen felt more inclined to attend.

With the prevalent Christmas mood, Student Council also found it appropriate to choose their nobility. Queen candidates were chosen from among members of SC and senior conference room presidents. The general election among the Senior Class gave the nod to Tina Skeldon, Student Council secretary.

Tina Skeldon receives her crown and warm congratulations from captain of the basketball team, Joe Lawniczak, after being chosen Student Council Queen by the seniors. Right: A beaming queen pauses while dancing and smiles proudly at her escort Tim Zale '73.



The George Jonice Quintet provided the pleasant music for Hilary Sujkowski '73 and date Amy Seeman '74 to rock to.

Diane Schuller '73 and her date from Start High, Ray Wodarski '74, take time out for a moment of peace and quite together.

Five girls chosen for their Student Council work are with dates, Steve Stickley and Sharon Nowak, Don Pellioni and Cissie Martaus, Tim Zale and Tina Skeldon, Chuck Istler and Donna Augello, Tim Drumm and Kris Kress.

Senior Terry Murnen and junior Karen Dietrich sit to rest awhile and complain about aching ankles.

Centripetal Skating Party Raises Spirits, Funds

As every editor knows, the money—or lack of it—determines the future of their publication, be it newspaper, magazine or yearbook.

Five thousand dollars short of their goal, the editors of CONTINUITY were forced to come up with a novel and successful way of making money; thus surfaced an Ice Skating Party. Was it novel? No one had ever had one before. Was it successful? Approximately 300 Centralites braved the cold to take in the event. As chairman Ken Rahm '73 explained, 'A new approach was needed because attendence at the Roller Skating Parties has been dropping off.'

Never let it be said that the yearbook will be caught short of funds.

Invalid Ty Szumigala '73 makes an attempt at zooming around on his lone skate but sadly fails despite Senior Mike Cunningham's helpful efforts.

Photographer Eric Ulrich '73 takes time to get his picture taken only to have Terry Kwiatkowski '73 horn in on the happening.

Clever Assembly Presented In Honor of Wrestlers, Coach

"Gee coach" said by Casey "animal" Dodson '73, as he tries to get in shape for wrestling. Coach, Jim Joyce '73 tells Casey he will have to try harder for a 98 pounder. The real coach, Mr. Dennis Bolbach, introduces 1972-73 wrestling team.

Bill Sulewski '73 brags to Debra Campbell '73 of his fantastic ability of being a wrestler. Below: Larry Bertz, Tom Maloney '73 dedicate the match.

Versatile Richard Harris '74, funkily worms across the stage and does his stuff along to the sounds of the "Ohio Players."

Spring Activities Include Fun Day, Black Culture Assembly

The Athletics Boosters, always active around Central, made their presence a little better known by sponsoring the first annual Fun Day.

Iniated to raise funds to pay off the Universal Gym, all proceeds exceeding the $3000 cost of the apparatus were given to Fr. Steinle to be put in the general fund.

The 17 booths, two big sixes, food and beer stands and card tables were all manned with boosters, faculty and some students. Also quite popular at the event was the whiskey and ham raffles and door prizes raffled off every 20 minutes.

Black Culture Week was highlighted here at Central by a Black Culture Assembly organized by interested Central students. In an effort to emphasize black contributions, the students' poetry, dance and song were all of black origin.

Caught up in the money raising spirit of Fun Day, gym teacher, Fran Krompak mingles among the crowd selling chances on a fifth.

Many people of all ages gathered around the games and gambling tables at Central's first annual Fun Day.

Talented "Shirley Temple", alias, Clint Longnecker does his thing as he tap dances to "Take Me Out To The Ballgame." Left: Larry Bertz stuns the audience with a dramatic interpretation of his very first book, entitled "Are You My Mother?" Below: Sculptor Jimbo Shortridge unveils his masterpiece, Sr. M. Gemma which represents all the momentous things he sees in Central.

Contest Raises Funds

Senior Superfellas Charm School With Good Looks, Talent

Never before has Central's student body had such a diversity of talents to choose from in selecting Superfella.

Resembling an overgrown Shirley Temple, Clint Longnecker, attempted to tap dance his way into the hearts of fellow Centralites.

Fullback Larry Bertz hoped to impress the crowd with his little boy-like oration of 'Who is My Mother?'

Jimbo Shortridge wanted something that reflected all the 'right ons and hey babies' of Central, thus, Sr. Gemma.

Tailback Hugo Ross, direct descendant of Betsy, displayed his patriotic garmentmaking ability.

As a wave of nostalgia sweeps the country, a pool of grease slid across the stage in the person of Brett 'Elvis' Neenan, the people's choice for the 1972-73 Superfella.

Here, left, we have our 1972-73 Superfella Brett Neenan getting down with Elvis Presley's "I Ain't Nothing But a Houndog." For Hugo Ross, sewing definitely is his thing, he's showing us "Dad's Sunday Suit."

Testimonial Assembly

Students Recognize Basketball Players, Honor Mothers

There were probably a few questions from some curious mothers concerning their son's extracurricular activities on and off the basketball court but this year's Sweetheart Assembly followed in the footsteps of the ones before it in successfully honoring the mothers of our team.

With an emphasis on loyalty, Mr. Pete Benedict, head coach, spoke of his early years at Central under football coach Tom McHugh. Loyalty to the boosters, to the very name of the school and loyalty to the players were all needed in any winning season.

Mr. Benedict said that if you stand by while somebody cuts down Central and offer no defense then you are guilty of disloyalty. The idea was that if you belong to an organization or group, belong all the way and give your best if you want that organization to be good—something like the loyalty of our coaches and teams.

Juniors Denny Seinert and Joe Addis recreate typical "beach scene" during their portrayal of juniors John Murnen and Steve Dartt. Below: Guest speakers await their cues to gun down their basketball playing-victims during testimonial style assembly saluting the mothers of our roundballers.

Raise Money For Prom

Juniors Model Prom Fashions in 'Previews of April'

Under the title 'Previews of April,' the Junior Class presented the Prom Preview to all the potential prom goers of April.

LaSalles and Bridal Aisle provided formals and after prom wear while the Junior Class provided the models. Tuxs for the guys came through the courtesy of Russell's Tuxedo.

Preview co-chairmen Tim Pedro and Mary Meehan also served as master and mistress of ceremony, describing the fashions as the models moved down the runway. Mr. DePrisco gave a professional touch by accompanying the program on the piano.

Started as an activity to help finance the prom, the Preview netted $150 for the juniors. Speculation has it that it was the biggest Preview to date with both the floor and bleachers filled by interested onlookers.

Looking quite dashing in his suit of white, Joe Addis could charm any young heart. Joe looks as if he knows this tux was made for him. Right: Mary Meehan, hostess for the prom preview, models her choice.

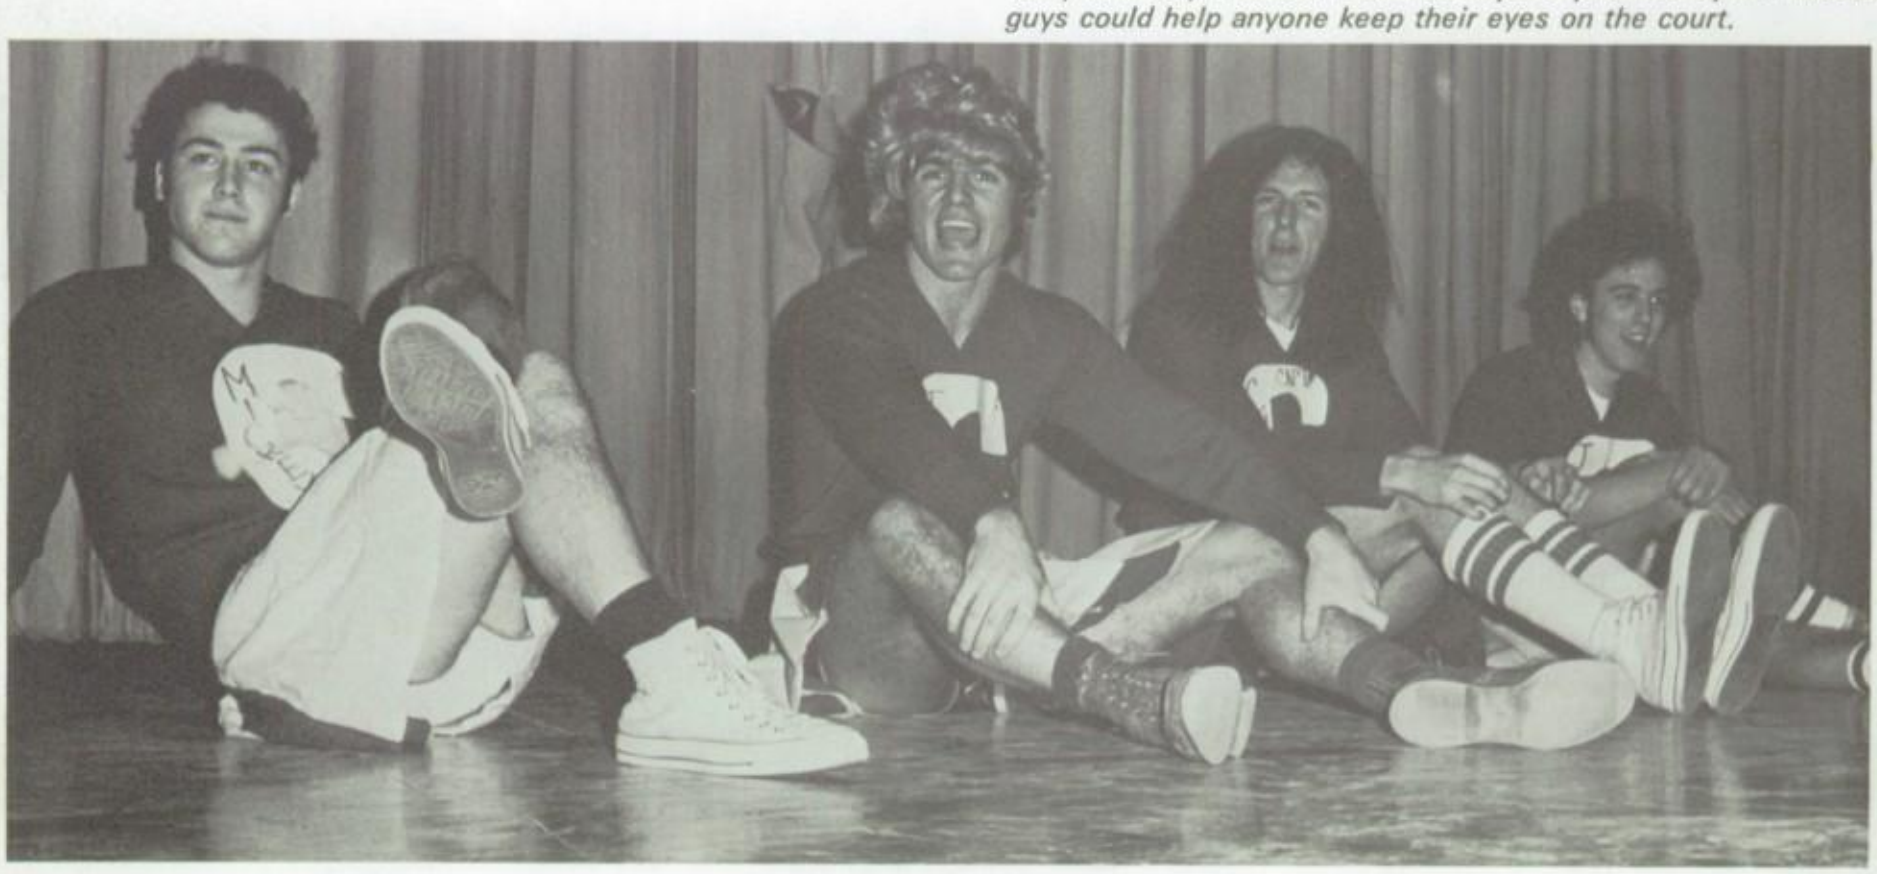
Linda Knorr and Rick Helvey pause in their formal wear while host, Tim Pedro describes their fashion apparel.

In a skit mocking cheerleading tryouts, Super Senior Casey Dodson does an imitation of Coach Fran Krompak as he explains to the girls what tryouts really are.

Senior cheerleaders from left: Bob Lindsay, Bill Sulewski, Terry Murnen, and Ken Rahm attempt to promote spirit. These guys could help anyone keep their eyes on the court.



Spirit Leaders Invest Efforts In Entertaining Assembly

Always searching for spirit promoting tactics, Central's Cheerleading squads once again came through in the form of an assembly.

The girls then held trial in the first district court of Central. The case, Loseres vs. Central, will long be heralded by attornies across the country as one of the great courtroom maneuvers of all time.

The prosecution witnesses all registered the same complaint — unnecessary roughness and mental cruelty.

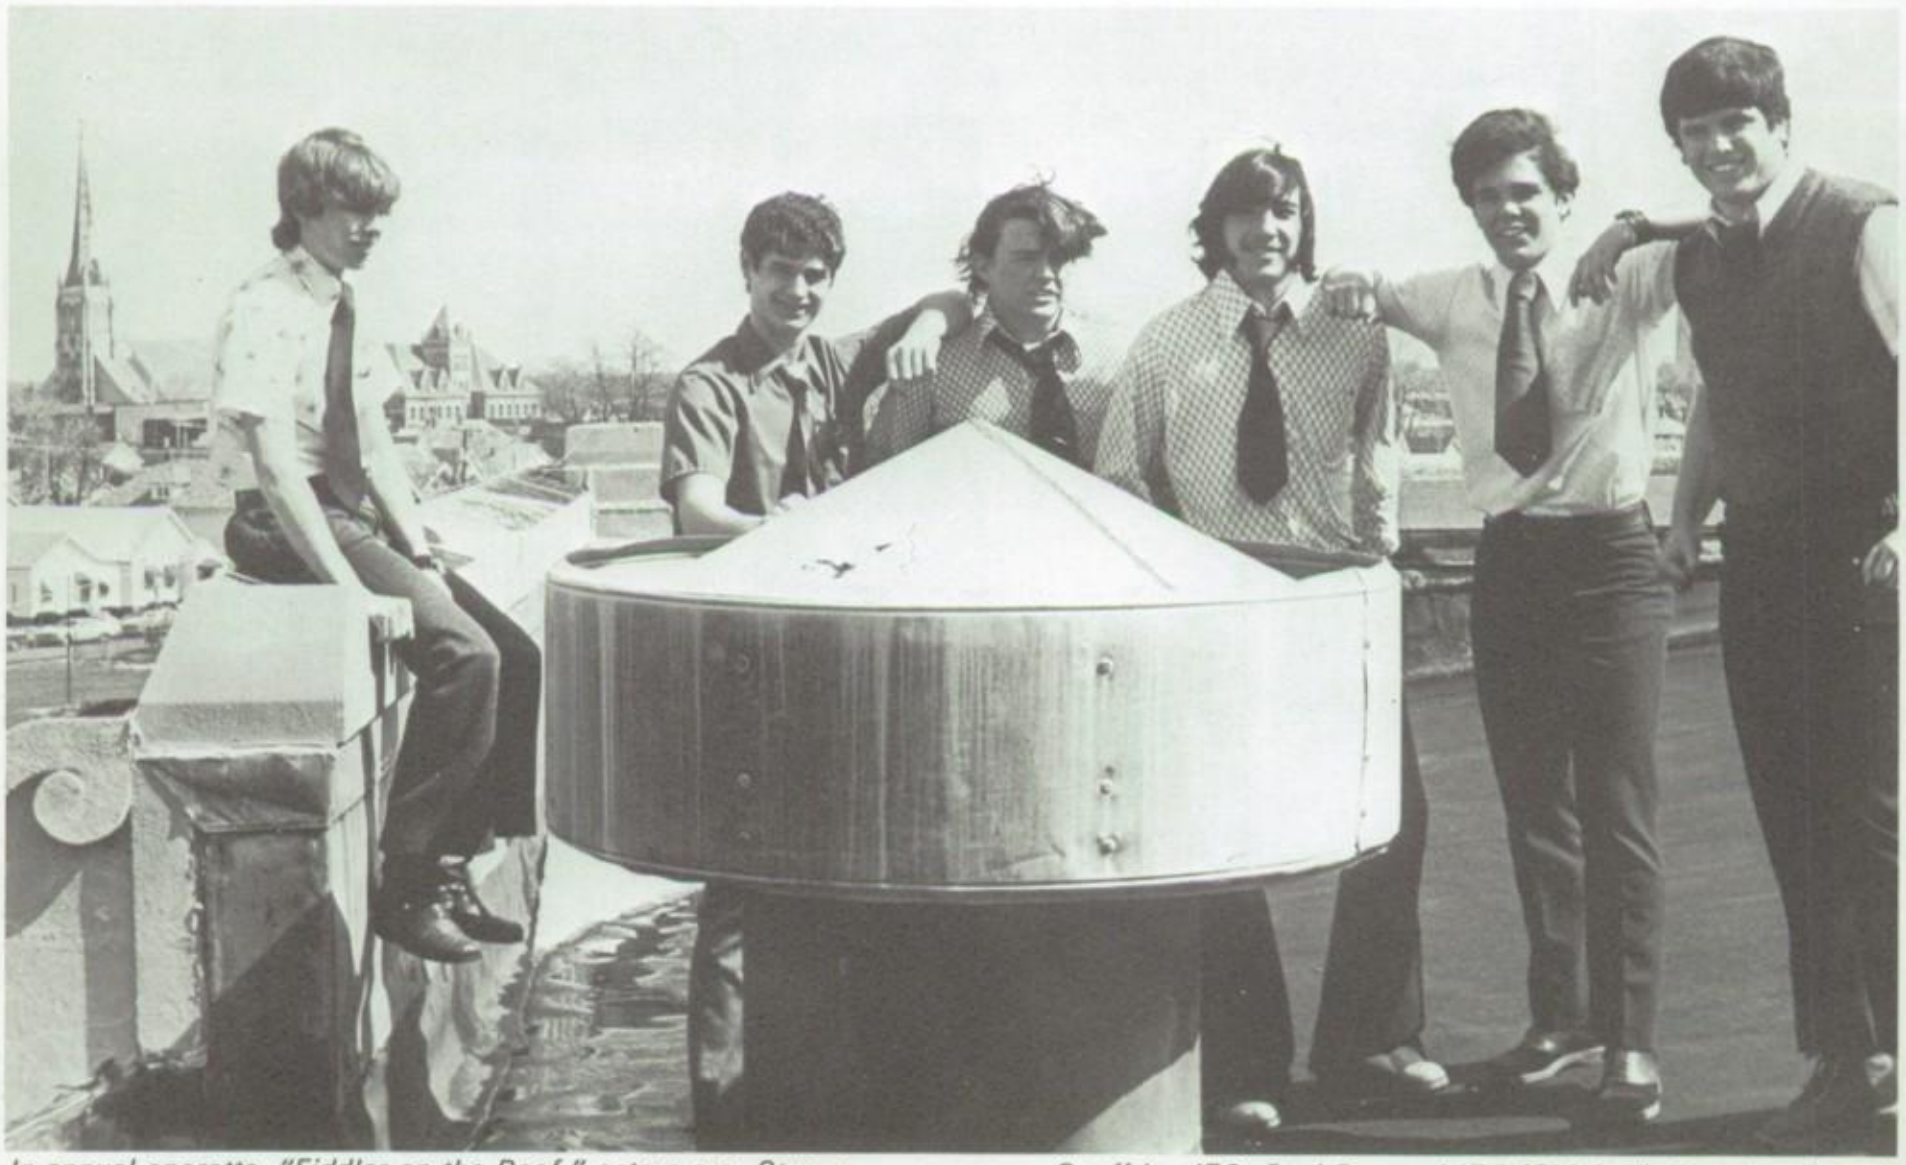
On both counts the Irish could only plead guilty for in all Central basketball games the team attempts to out-muscle and out-psych the opposition.

In view of the evidence the court had but one option — to continue their winning ways.

Head of the Halftime Dancers, Diane Schuller '73, contributes to the assembly as she introduces her girls.

Graceful and beautiful Gene Hankenhof '73 dances his way to fame as a portrait of Mrs. Binkert at the cheerleaders and halftime assembly.

Out on a window ledge, gracefully practicing one of their dances from "Fiddler on the Roof" are: Amy Seeman '74 (Berille), Karen Nadolny '74 (Anya), Mary Walsh '74 (Rivka) and Beth Mercurio '74 (Blima).



In annual operetta, "Fiddler on the Roof," actors are: Steven Page '73 (Yossil), Michael Johnson '75 (Yitzuk), Tom Geoffrion '73, Paul Poupard '75 (Shloima), Dan Goodnough '73 (Yakow) and Bob Carlucci '73 (Hershel).

Senior Glee Selects, For Annual Operetta, 'Fiddler On The Roof'

Strains of 'If I were a rich man' floated out of the Music building in a Jewish dialect—could it be Central Catholic was going Hebrew?

The unfamiliar tongue was justified April 26, 27, 28 and 29 at Start High School where the Music Department staged this year's spring operetta, "Fiddler on the Roof."

Musical direction was again handled by Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco, department head and was assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Seeman who took charge of the vocal aspect. Mrs. Evelyn Weiner returned to work as stage director and Mr. Craig Barrow, a '67 graduate of Central, guided the choreography.

The story of a Jewish dairyman was set in an obscure Russian village around the turn of the century. It emits not only humor but also exposes the hostility, violence and injustice practiced by a ruling majority.

Seniors Casey Biggs (Tevya) and Ann Louth (Golde) rehearse a duet entitled "Do You Love Me?" Below: Cast of the daughters and their husbands are Hilary Sujkowski '73, Jenny Pugh '73 as Fizedka and Chava, Larry Czelusta '74, Dianne Macke '75 as Motel and Tzutel; Deb Geis '73, Paul Hickey '74 as Hodel and Perchick.

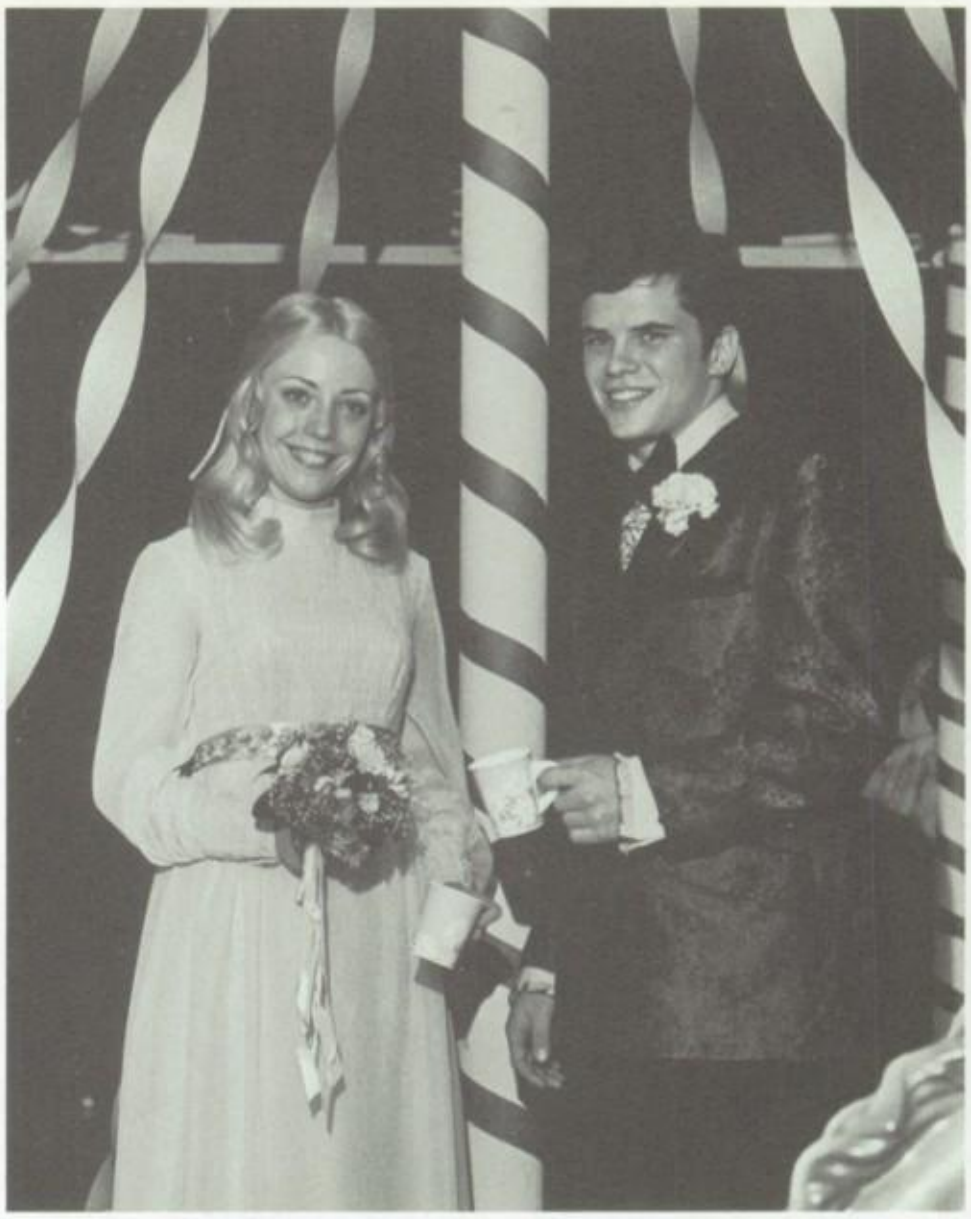
Female thespians, Seniors Kris Newbold (Yente) and Karen Simpson (Fruma-Sarah), and Kathy Costain '74 (Gramma Tzeutel), take time out to pose for the roving camera.

Seniors End Irish Life With Prom, Graduation

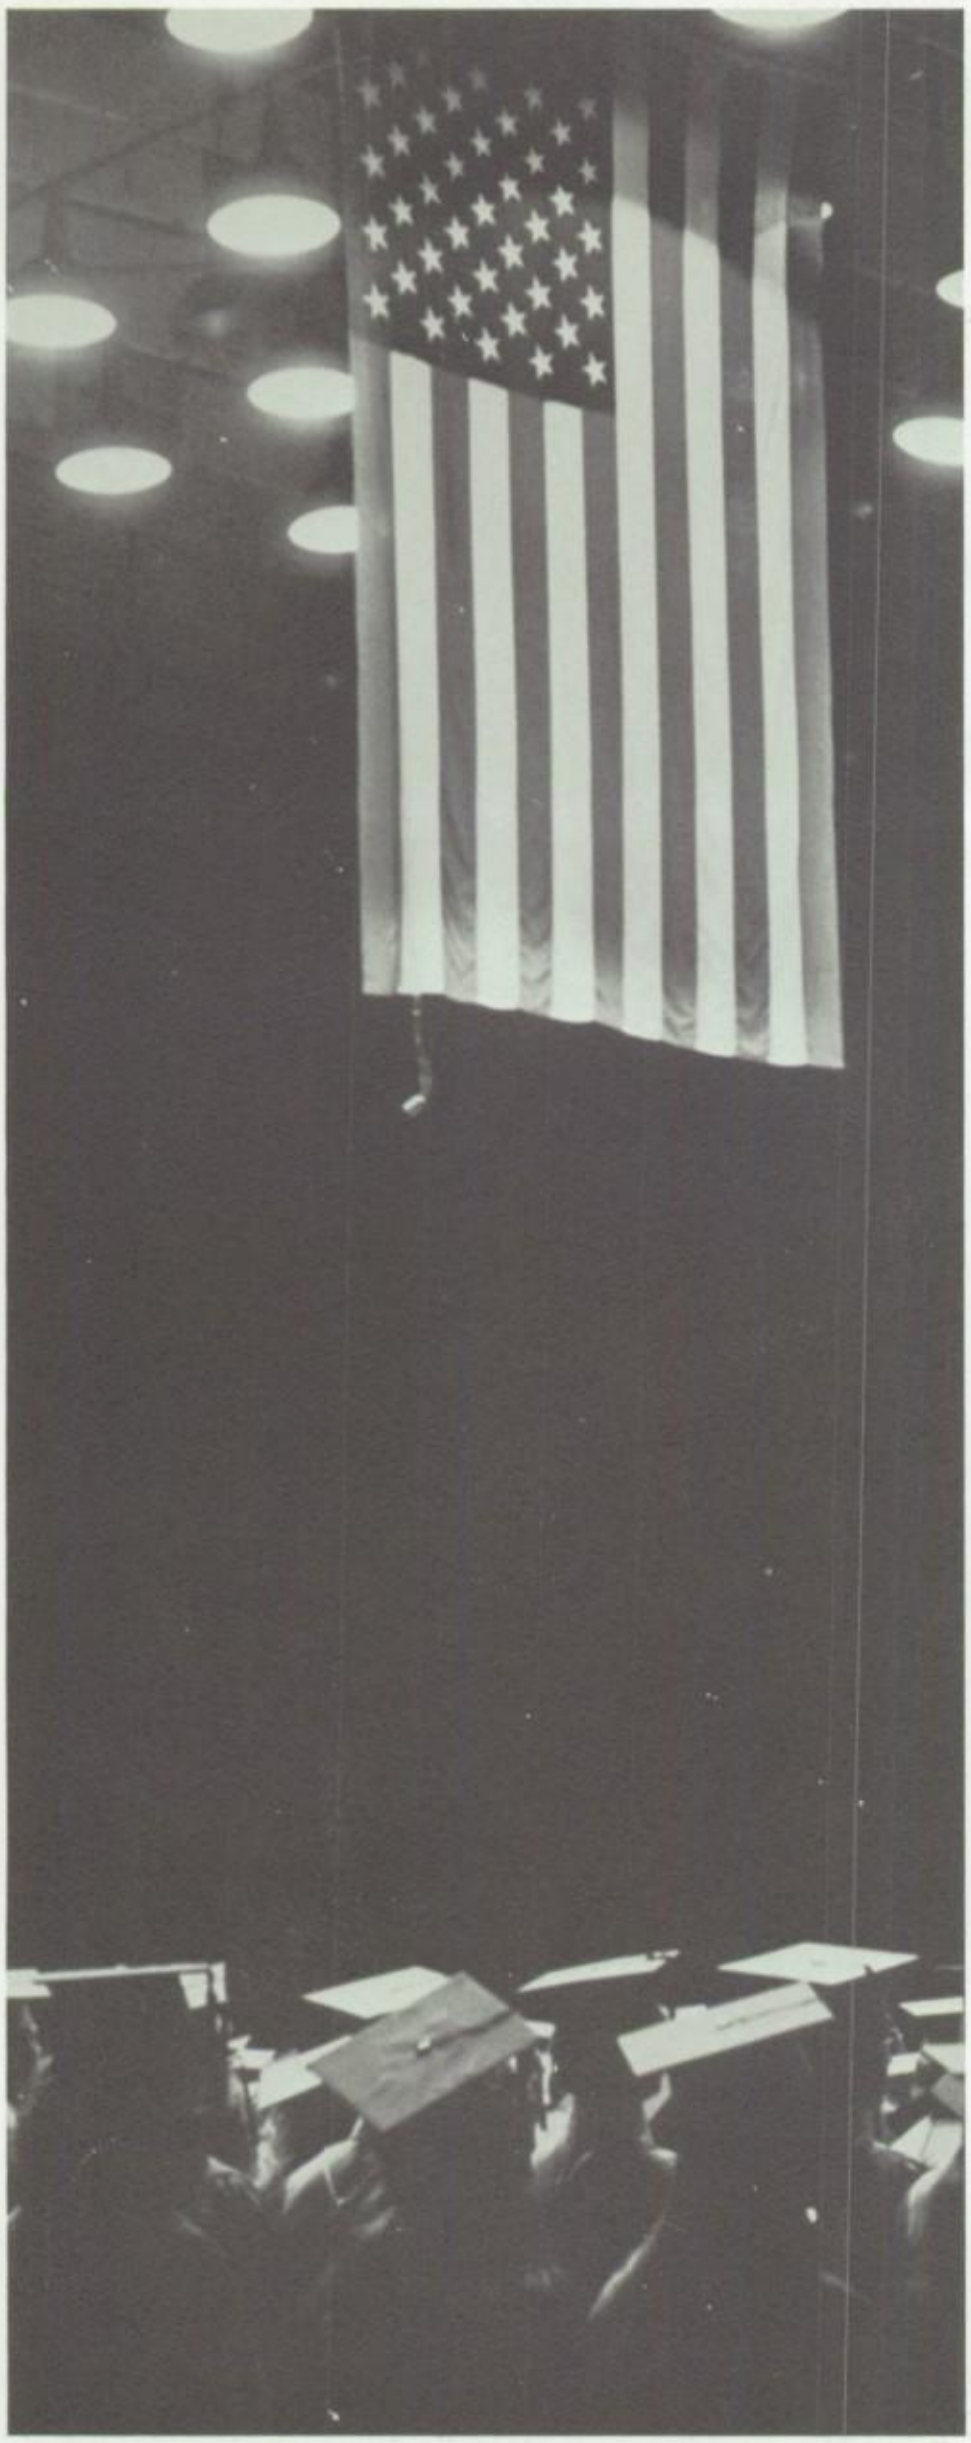
Prom and graduation, for seniors, mark the end of four years of probably the most difficult but at the same time the happiest part of their lives.

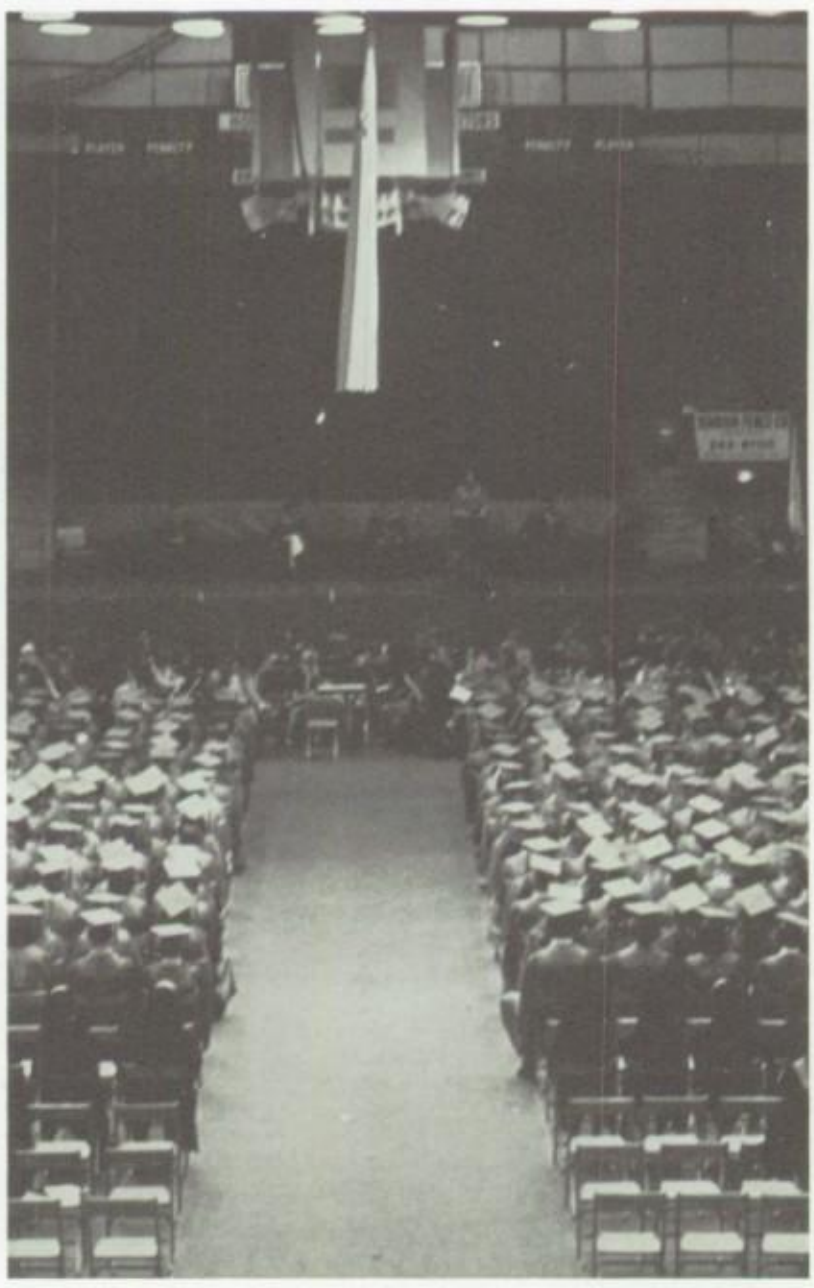
These two events seem a hundred years away from the underclassmen's point of view, but a talk with almost any senior will find him wondering where the time went.

Scarborough Fair, presented by the class of '73 to last year's seniors offered an escape, for at least one night, from the end of the year whirl of activity. Reigning as queen in this storybook world of carousels was Kathy Jaworski escorted by Tom Doney both of '72.



Prom-goers Cindy Miscikowski '73, and her escort Brett Neenan '73, enjoy themselves amidst the festive surroundings. Below: Kathy Jaworski '72, chosen to reign as Prom Queen, adjusts her newly acquired crown, while her proud escort, Tom Doney '72, smiles with admiration.





With four years behind them, commencement exercises for the graduating seniors of '72 were held once again at the Sports Arena.

Members Serve As Voice in Student Affairs

From a look at the list of projects undertaken by Student Council this year, it might better be known as an Organization for all seasons.

The fall brought with it football which brought with it the Homecoming Dance, a spirit week for the St. Francis game, a football assembly, Saturday night rally for the St. Francis game, the United Appeal drive and the installation of a coke machine.

With Old Man Winter came Santa's post office and a genuine St. Nick answering letters from Toledo area children, Sadie Hawkins and her dance, Catholic Chronicle drive, Greaser Day, Valentine's Day post office and florist, basketball assembly, Christmas tree in the main lobby and a door decoration contest.

Car-o-sell and a new soccer team highlighted spring.

Throughout the year a monthly newsletter was published in order to inform the student body about the doings of their government.

Brain Power And Muscle Power Constitute Competition

Brains and athletic ability were not confined to the classroom and boys' varsity teams this past year.

In the area of scholarship the National Honor Society, under the guidance of Mrs. Velma C. Pfeiffer came through with a tutoring service for all classes, organized college night, open house and grade school visitation.

Sr. Mary Avolene OSF coached a team of the best brains in the city. With two-a-week practice sessions, the CCHS Quiz Bowl Team racked up a record of 2-0 as of March 13 in High School Quiz competition.

Very much removed from the boys' locker room, the Girls' Athletic League promoted involvement by girls in all classes through a ski trip, intramural basketball, volleyball, bowling, swimming and canoing.

The coaches' girls 'Friday' — athletic office workers — proved indispensible by running for donuts, typing schedules and selling tickets.

Many people complain about not getting anything out of school—the subjects taught don't relate to everyday life. Well the moderators of the four foreign language clubs have attempted to dispel this complaint with various activities outside of the school building.

With their sites set for Montreal in the summer, the French Club and their advisor Mrs. Roberta Collins have been busy ever since September with car washes, bake sales, and a booth at the International Festival to finance their trip.

Also on the road this year will be Mr. Patrick Gillespie's Latin scholars to the Junior Classical League Convention in Columbus, Ohio and the students of Sr. Adolph's German Club to the port to visit a German ship.

Content to stay at home, the Spanish Club and their advisor, Mrs. Faye Jaegers, found Spanish culture right in Toledo through a dinner at a Mexican restaurant and the International Festival.

Divided into three clubs, each having one of the three Biology teachers, the FSA clubs heard from a physical therapist, a doctor of psychosomatic illnesses, an educational director at an area hospital and speakers from other related areas.

Named for a Central alumnus who is a flight director for the NASA Apollo program, the Eugene Kranz Chemistry Club sponsored an all-day field trip to Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. About fifty persons, representing teachers, club members and students of all classes attended the event.

The Medical Horizons Club occupied its time with talks on volunteer work, nursing, laboratory work and medical technicians.

Teens Volunteer Services For Easier Running Days

With an emphasis on service the Red Cross and CSMC succeeded in getting out of the school and into the community.

The volunteer was the key to the success of the American Red Cross Youth Organization. This person helped at St. Anthony's Villa, Miami Children's Home, nursing homes, Hearing and Speech Center and recruited 18 year old blood donors here at Central.

Catholic Students Mission Club activities consisted of more than collecting five dollars for the baptism of a pagan baby. The group provided for a Christmas dinner and gifts for needy families, volunteer work at nursing homes and St. Anthony's Villa and also staged the May Convocation.

Also with an emphasis on service, the Big and Little Sisters Club, Attendance Office girls and Library workers concentrated on service to Central.

The Big and Little Sis Club used a Christmas gift exchange, ice skating party and an overnight stay at the Catholic Club to help the freshman girls feel at home.

Irish Clubs Prove Success Through Time, Hard Work

CHESS CLUB: 2nd Team: clockwise - Sr. Cabrini OSF, Mitch Gorsha, Ralph Karmol, John Lvons.

Relecting the asthetic side of Central, the Art Club run by the four senior fourth year art students, organized field trips and fund raising projects, undertook art jobs for members of the student body, helped with the redecoration of the school, assisted in preparing the Art Show and displayed Art Club works in the first and second floor show case windows.

The one-act play troupe and director Mr. Michael Reitz, prepared 'At Liberty' by Tennesse Williams, 'Apollo of Belac' from Jean Giraudoux and 'Smoke Screen' written by Harold Brighouse for the one-act play competition sponsored by the CYO.

Its purpose was to open more channels for Centralites to implement their dramatic abilities.

Behind the curtains in all assemblies and stage productions the stage crew handled all of the lighting and sound mechanics needed to give the presentations a professional finish.

The strategists of Central, the Chess Team, was divided into two teams in the Fischer—as in Bobby—league and finished the season with 11 game points for team I and 10½ for team II.

Bach Is Back

Classical Sounds Revised To Furnish Contemporary Vibes

Under the baton of Mrs. Dorothy H. Coats, the orchestra again gave Central the professional sounding music needed to put on polished performances.

Such performances this year were at the Center Stage Revue, the Christmas concert, open house, the Music Department Spring Musical, Commencement and numerous assemblies.

In line with the Christmas touring of the Glee Club and band, the orchestra also went on tour, only in the spring, to elementary parochial schools in the Toledo area to aquaint the students with a different facet of the Music Department.

The more competitive players in the pit participated in the Solo and Ensemble Festival at Bowling Green. Junior Linda Sulewski received a one for her violin solo.

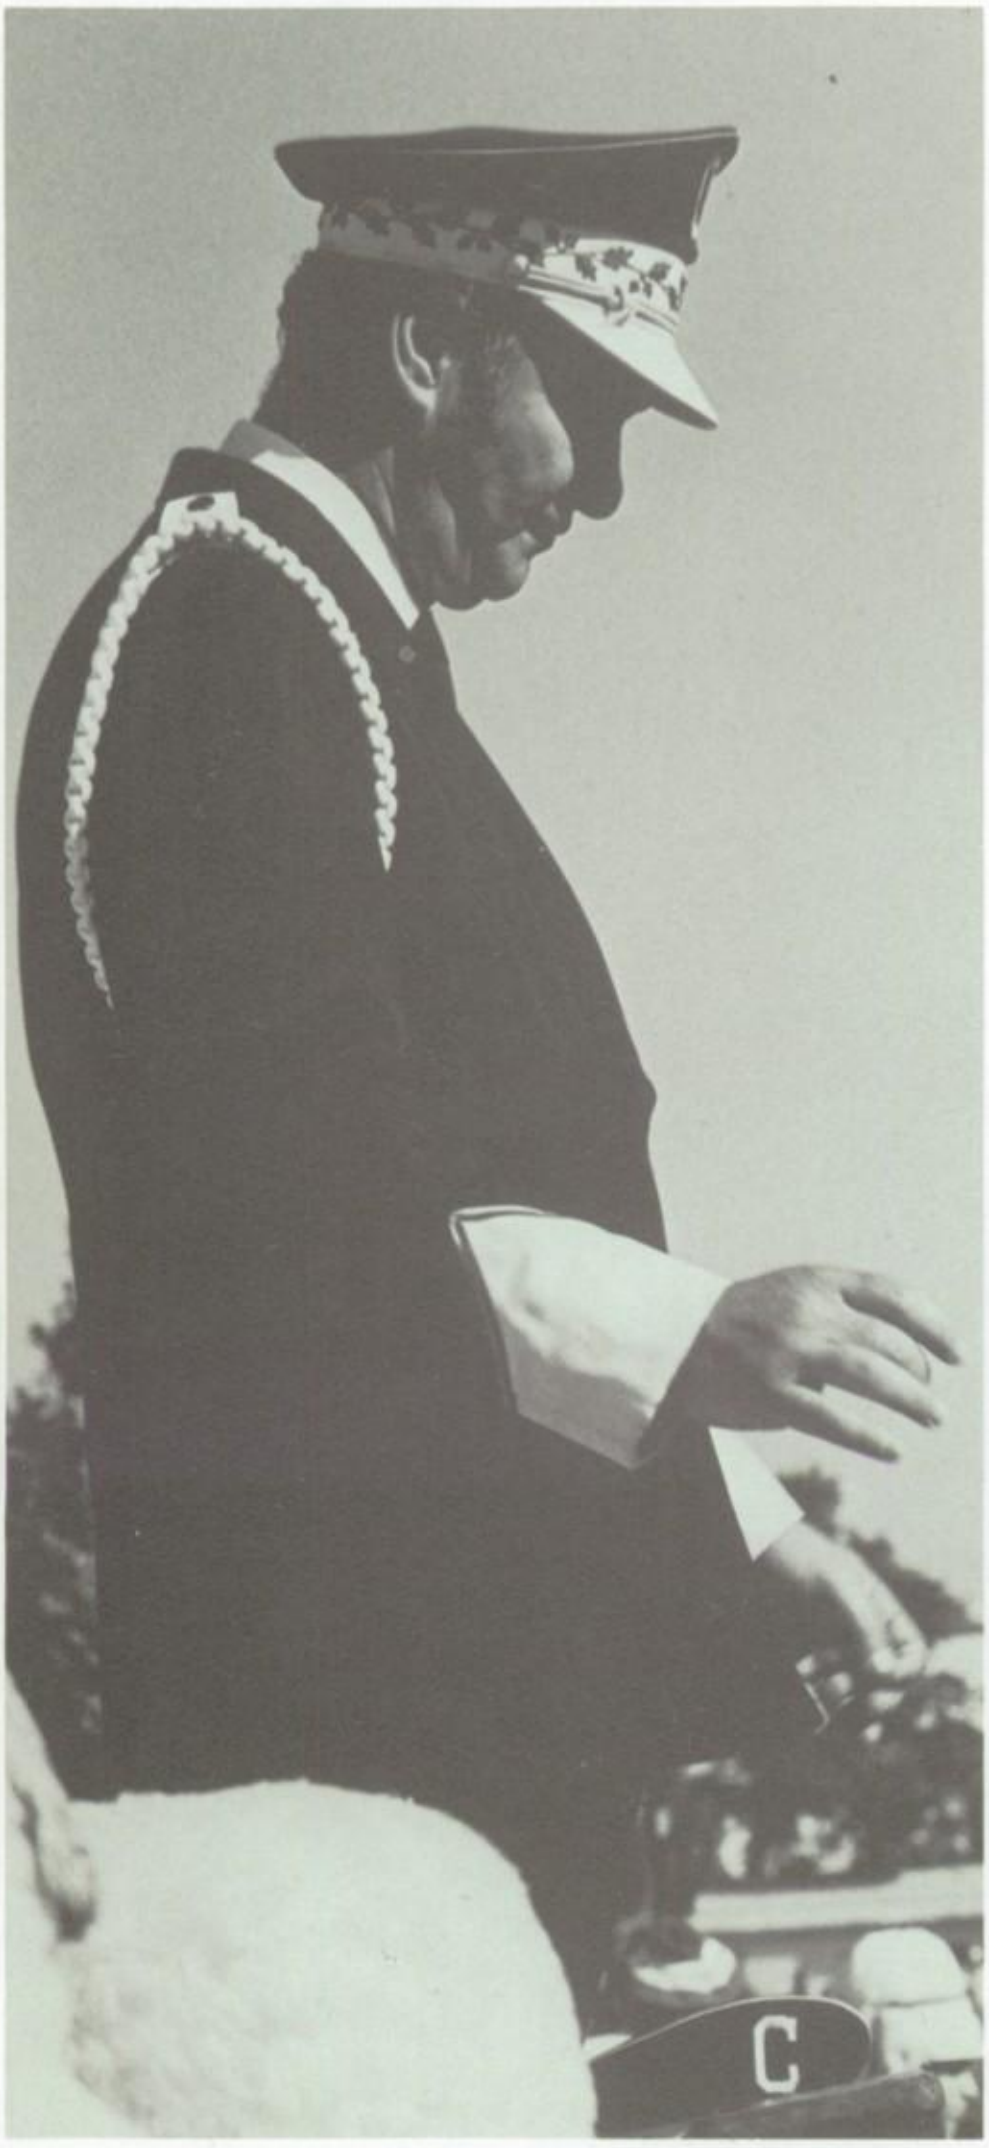
Play It Again Band

Performers March While Striking Up A Medley Of Tunes



Mr. Gerald V. DePrisco, directs band during half-time activities.

From the beginning of the school year the band was tooting and marching its way around Central.

Freshman orientation day was its official starting point. The frosh were introduced to organizations they were to hear quite a lot from in the future—Fr. Steinle and the band.

Marching ability was best displayed during half-time shows at football games and parades in the Toledo area. Two such parades were the downtown Christmas Parade and the Memorial Day Parade on Lagrange Street.

But they were not always on their feet. Open House, the Football Banquet, the Art-Music Festival, May Crowning ceremonies, Graduation exercises and the Christmas concert at the Peristyle were all performed while seated.

The band was also quite instrumental in making the assemblies more enjoyable. The Homecoming, Christmas, Football and Basketball assemblies all benefited by the band's presence.

On the road the minstrels toured area grade schools and traveled to the Ohio Music Educators Association Solo and Ensemble competition and band competition.

Probably the best known branch of our Music Department, the Glee Club, kept up its touring tradition in visting area grade schools during the Yuletide season, appearing for the opening of the new Red Cross Headquarters and assisting at an ordination Mass at Rosary Cathedral.

The busiest time of the year for practically everyone, but even more so for our harmonious songsters, is Christmas. Their schedule included a Christmas Mass and assembly, the Christmas concert at the Peristyle, Christmas music at Franklin Park Mall, Rosary Cathedral, St. Anthony's Villa and the Madonna Homes.

School related performances included the football banquet, a Thanksgiving Mass, CCHS Music and Art Festival and the musical production of 'Fiddler on the Roof' staged at Start High School.

Singing experience was also provided for the underclassmen in the Concert Chorus, Freshman Girls' Chorus and Freshman Boys' Chorus.

The freshmen performed in the Freshman Concert in the Spring and at the Peristyle in the Christmas concert.

Also appearing at the Peristyle was the Concert Chorus which was seen at the Revue and the Music and Arts Festival.

They're Much Too Much

Energetic Cheerleaders Generate Crowds' Enthusiam

It looked fairly easy from the stands—all you had to do was jump and clap. But from the summer of '72 to the spring of '73 Central's cheerleading squads, varsity and junior varsity practiced and then practiced some more to make those jumps and claps seem less difficult than they really were.

A two day clinic at TU in August gave the girls ideas for new cheers and combinations and two-a-week practice sessions from summer to spring helped synchronize the unit.

Summer car washes helped finance the basketball uniform change. The girls sported red gray plaid skirts and short sleeved sweaters.

Time was also devoted to a cheerleading clinic for all fifth through eighth grade parochial school cheerleaders in September.

Dance To The Music

Talented Irish Dancers Highlight Halftime Entertainment

Senior-Diane Dressel.

No stranger to Central and most definitely no stranger to dancing, Mrs. Susan Binkert took over as advisor to the Dancing Irish replacing Miss Maureen Gallagher. A 1968 graduate, Mrs. Binkert was captain of the dancers, danced in the operetta, 'West Side Story' and was awarded the most outstanding member of G.A.L.

Being affiliated with the band, the eight gavotting girls participated in all of the band's fund raising activities, performed at half-times during football games, marched in the downtown Christmas parade, danced at the annual Christmas concert, and along with the cheerleading squads put on an assembly.

Junior Apprentices Apply Abilities; Aspiring Writers Produce Impressions

Centric Editor-in-Chief Tim Ireland

As official cartoonist, Centric editor Tim Ireland, gained an honorable mention in this field last year at BGSU. Not only did he guide his veteran staff of seniors but helped the apprentice junior journalists with their issue.

Under Sr. Patricia RSM, and Sr. Rita Koelsch OSF, Central's literary magazine, the Laureate, published two mini editions, one in December and one in February along with the major issue in May.

With a core staff of ten, co-editors Marcia Bailey '74 and Karen Dietrich '74 waded through material submitted by interested Centralites to fill their book.

Usually found in room 124 with rubber cement on her hands after pasting up a yearbook layout or reading a story for the Centric, Sr. Susan Murawa OSU, the publications advisor, could be relyed upon during a crisis to remain calm.

This past year had its share of almost catastrophies and the nun did her part to keep them from becoming real catastrophies. Be it pictures lost, a sports page without headlines the day the paper was to be sent to the printer, a printer that tells you, 'have it in on Wednesday we'll have it back on Friday morning but doesn't tell you what time Friday morning so you end up passing the little gems out at lunch, or almost having to file bankruptcy, Sr. Susan came up with a compromise to save the Journalism Department from getting the ax.

Duo-Leaders Reign; Writers Keep Scoring

In their second year as yearbook staff members, seniors Ken Rahm and Gene Hankenhof were given the challenge of the co-editors positions.

Ideas for the theme came during the summer of '72 and set in type as early as September.

Gene being the more artistic of the two handled the design of the division pages and was helped in the form of suggestions from his partner. Ken could have been found almost any period of the day either pasting up layouts in the Centric office or running to the printer with cutlines and copy.

The most sought after man of either the newspaper or yearbook staffs was Eric Ulrich, chief photographer. Constantly confronted by irate page editors from the Centric, yearbook co-editor Ken Rahm and Sr. Susan, Eric, although threatening resignation on several occasions, came through with quality photographs for both publications.

Dilligent, Efficient Staff Records '72-73 School Memories

Eighth period five days a week was hardly time enough to complete a 224 page yearbook. It took time after school finishing layouts, typing cutlines and organizing an ice skating party to raise money; it took time during study halls to run to the printer, paste up the layouts and take it all to the platemaker to meet the March 23 deadline. No, eighth period just wasn't enough time to capture not only the history but also the mood of the 1972-73 academic year.

With a staff of 30, CONTINUITY, like most of the yearbook staffs before it, had trouble getting started in September—not really knowing how to write cutlines or draw up layouts but learned from the two-year veterans of the staff and their own mistakes.

School Leaders Instill Optimism to C.C.H.S. Students

If you've ever had the man for class, one thing you become aware of very quickly is that Fr. James E. Steinle follows the rules. And why shouldn't he be a stickler for law and order in CCHS? If the head honcho can't conform to his own policies it's a sure bet no one else will—including the remaining members of Central's hierarchy: Sr. Cabrini, Mr. Richard J. Beres and Fr. Neil C. Lucas.

Although all four members are consulted in policy-making decisions, it is quite obvious that in a school the size of ours, a division of labor on the administrative level is the only option open to deal with the various problems that arise throughout the year.

Tasks assigned to Mr. Beres include classroom supervision, disiplinary problems of the sophomores and juniors and remodeling jobs.

Sr. Cabrini sees to the set up and changes of schedules and the compliance of the students to the dress code.

Future Suzy Homemakers, Artists Show Craftmanship

Readin', writin', and 'rithmetic were not the only things that were offered in the CCHS curriculum. The departments of Art and Home Economics both added an extra dimension to our academic structure.

Contrary to popular belief, freshman girls weren't the sole inhabitants of the Home Ec complex. Quite a number of senior men invaded the kitchens of room 314 to gain culinary talents which were at one time reserved for the 'weaker' sex. Throughout the year the guys turned out such gourmet delicacies as potato soup, peanut butter cookies, Thanksgiving dinner. They'll make some girls good wives one day.

Even though the shouts from Women's Libbers were loud, they had no significant effect in the predominently male world of mechanical drawing and drafting. It was guessed that the females of Central were content to slave over a hot stove rather than a hot drafting board. On the more creative side of the Art Department the fourth year art students designed and painted two murals, one at each end of the fourth floor. The paintings depict all phases of Centralife—academic, athletic and spirit.

Juniors Mary Beth Smolenski, Debra Zak and Karen Kaczmarek work diligently in hopes of finishing their plastic sculpures for art.

Business Courses Offer New Skills For Secretaries

Big business is on the rise at Central. Future secretarial pools of America will definitely benefit if they receive a product of our Business Department.

Initiated this year, the Intensive Office Education Program — better known as the Block — stressed independent work at the student's own speed. Work was assigned at the beginning of the quarter and expected to be completed at the quarter's end. Regular exams were taken in Shorthand, Typing and Bookkeeping.

To acquaint the girls with office procedure and different types of office jobs the department arranged for the students to individually visit Toledo area offices once each semester. Reports were then brought back for the class to share.

A speaker from Davis Business College talked to the Block, Office Practice and Bookkeeping students about further education in the business field.

Choice Of English Classes Offers Diversity, Variety

The comment was once made, 'If we don't offer it (an English elective) you don't need it.' In the course of human events, the English Department discovered two electives that the pupils attending Central Catholic need. Poetry Workshop and College Bound Reading, the new editions, bring the total number of electives offered to juniors and seniors to 20.

Under the direction of Sr. Patricia Schnapp and Ms. Merrie-Ellen Vogan, the department sponsored a Book Fair in the fall selling close to $500 worth of paperbacks and the first annual narrative speech contest assembly.

Foreign Languages Lead CCHS Students Toward Competent Linguistic Skills

Foreign languages—who needs 'em? Why should we struggle through two years of French, Spanish, German or—God forbid—Latin? Isn't English difficult enough?

The student who has just finished two years of the struggle would be able to give convincing reasons for undertaking one of the languages.

For question number one—everybody needs 'em. Question two—consider this—you are sitting in a French restaurant one day. There you are ordering snails when you wanted a steak. If you knew only English you would starve to death in a foreign country within a week. Or maybe you are driving along in Mexico—lost because you don't understand the signs. You never know when you might find yourself in a foreign country.

On to question three. The English language is difficult—ask a foreigner trying to learn it. As far as languages go it is most inconsistant and has quite a potpourri of words from different tongues. Through study of a different speech the student grasps a better understanding of English and benefits from the exposure to strange customs.

Career Resource Center Adds New Vision To Staff

Administering to the needs and problems of the adolescent or young adult is not an easy task as can be attested to by each member of the six member Guidance staff at Central.

Rising above the problem, Mrs. Velma Pfeiffer, Guidance Department head, gave her undivided attention to college-bound seniors burdened with admissions forms and any other conceivable piece of paper pertaining to the 'college of your choice.'

The underclassmen have the experience of Mr. John Foy, Mrs. Lucille Hauenstein, Miss Dorothy Haverbusch and Sr. Mercy Marie RSM to help them with course selections and problems throughout the year.

An added dimension to the department, this year, is the opening of a careers center. Headed by Sr. Herman SND, the center provides information concerning future occupations.

Age-Old Library Traditions Bows To Easier Admittance; Music Building Rejuvenated

Centralities study quietly and put forth efforts to do research work within silent walls of the library.

For 52½ years the one and only one way of entering Central's world of slides, filmstrips, tape cassettes, transparencies, records, magazines, hard bound books and paperbacks—the library—was with a little slip of paper called a library permit. This permit was a very sought after piece of paper and while usually given out by teachers was at times unlawfully acquired.

Well, after all these years the library tightened security by admitting only the student holding a newly initiated identification card.

New doors, new risers, a clean basement and refurbished instrument shelves were some of the changes initiated across the yard in the Music Building.

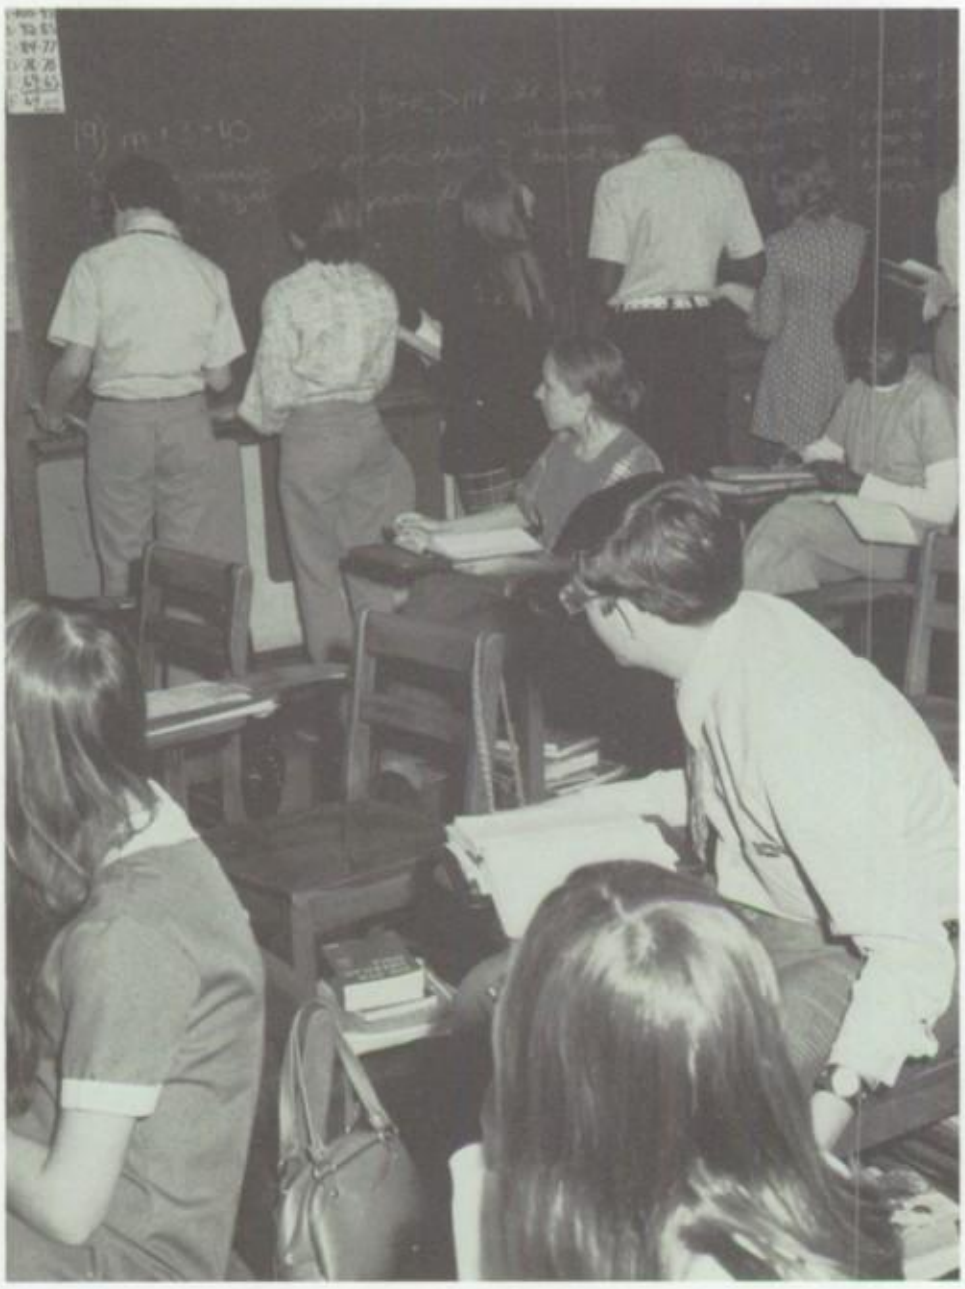
Central Math Teachers Run Number Racket With Ease



Freshman algebra students of Sr. M. Damien "prove" their blackboard skills while others contemplate

'Well, why do I have to take Algebra first; what does that have to do with Geometry?'

'I never did like working with lines; can't I just take Algebra and skip Geometry altogether?'

'Why do I need Geometry to take Advanced Algebra?'

The above were questions most often asked by CCHS apprentice mathematicians. It was up to the master craftsmen of the trade — the teachers — to tie the digits of Algebra to the lines of Geometry and help the student find a way to apply the logic learned in this field to the rest of his subjects and everyday life.

Women's Liberation Strikes Former Male Chauvinism

'One, two, three, four — touch your fingers to the floor.'

There's a lot more to Central's Physical Education classes than toe-touches and sit-ups. The instructors do precisely what the name implies — educate the students on a physical level. Although calisthenics play a big role in developing stamina, co-ordination is equally important in developing grace and agileness.

On the female side of the fence co-ordination is gained through gymnastics, folk dancing and organized sports such as soccer and basketball.

Not to be outdone, the outnumbered male fraction employs the use of grueling calistenics, wrestling, basketball and all other types of competition — individual and team.

Both groups come together for six weeks out of the year to learn the intricacies of square dancing.

Revised Religion Syllabus Provides Christian Living For Concerned Centralites

Religion and Central go together like Washington and politics—one automatically brings to mind the other.

And for all practical purposes it should be as such for religion is the reason we pay tuition. Without it there would be no distinction between us and a public school—we would be a public school.

Reasons for coming to Central vary. Parents want their kids to attend a Catholic school or kids just like the idea of Central but whatever the reason it's up to the student to get something out of the religious education. Electives in the junior and senior years give a person the opportunity to find some answers in the area of religion that most confuse him. Whether the answers are there to be found is not certain. But if they are there the department will attempt to pull them out.

Science Scholors Inspire Efficient Research Styles

For aspiring young scientists, Central has the courses and facilities to satisfy their technological curiosity on all levels.

With Basic Science the freshman year, comes the fundamentals of the scientific field of study. Depending on future plans and interests, the student could branch off into Biology, Physiology, Physical Science or Earth Science upon reaching sophomore status. The juniors and seniors have Physics, Chemistry, Electricity or Electronics to round out their major.

But science is not restricted to the classroom. 'This Atomic World,' a program designed to provide increased understanding of information regarding stomic energy was presented to the entire student body at an assembly. The entire operation was prepared by Geneva College for the Atomic Energy Commission.

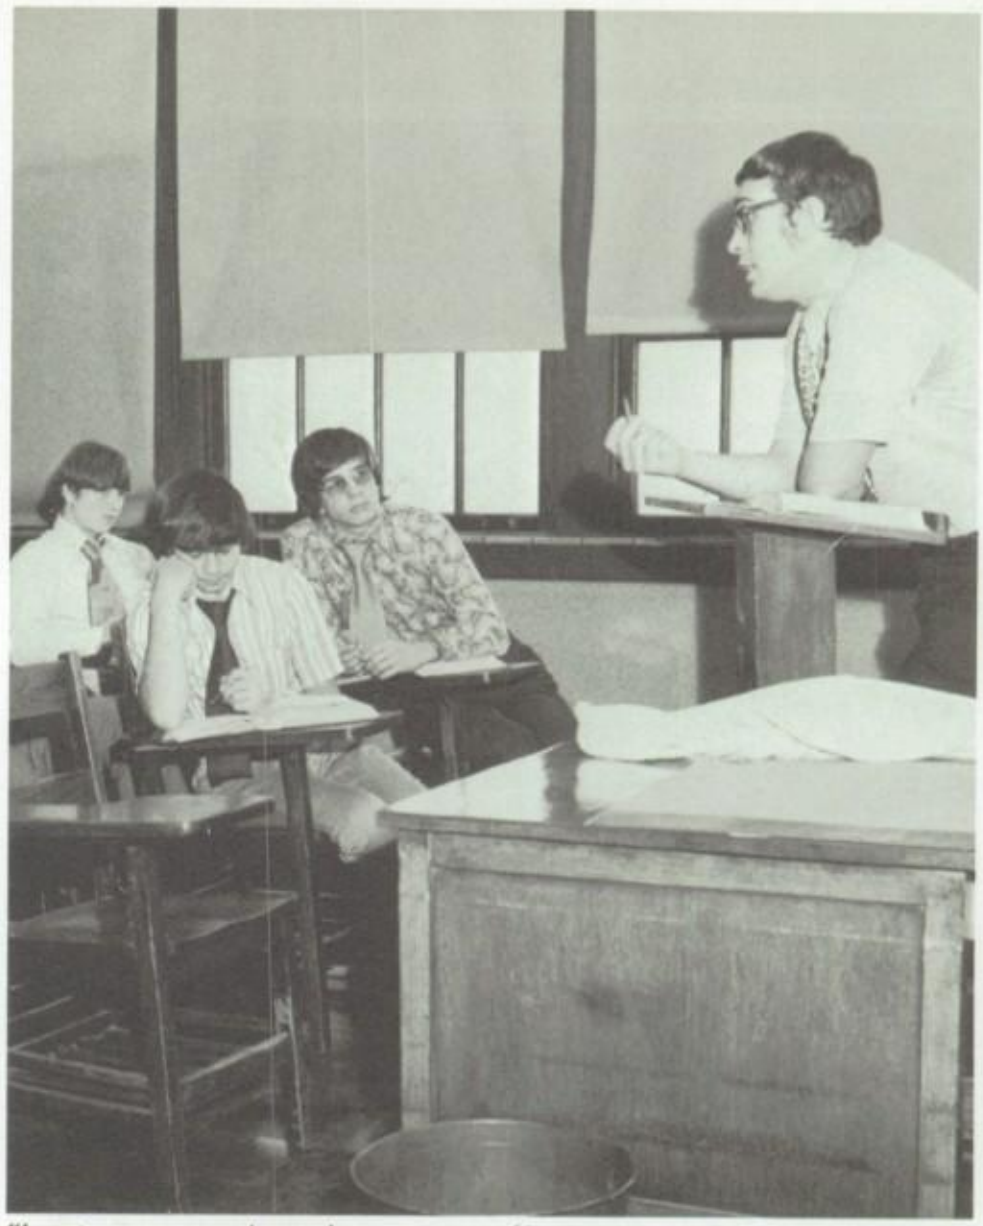
Social Studies Department Gives Worldly Knowledge

President Nixon was re-elected, Henry Kissenger vacationed in Paris, the P.O.W.s came home, welfare increased.

Yes, the academic year of 1972-73 was quite busy politically and had it not been for the triumvirate of Sr. Mary Shawn SND, Mrs. Diane Hamilton and Mr. Joseph Rozanski some members of the Senior Class would've been lost after the first primary.

But government alone does not a Social Studies Department make. World History, American History, and Geography give the student the background material necessary to tackle the graft and corruption found in modern day government.

Also, begun this year, the juniors got a jump on the electives system with the introduction of 20th Century America, Protest in American History, Prosperity and Depression and War in America.



"I got some good movies, ya know?" comments Mr. Dick Gralak to American History male scholars, minutes before the 1:15 bell.

Senior Class Grieves Loss Of Classmate Kevin Wenger

One out of 1611—who would miss one out of 1611? Well, just over 300 for sure, those 300 being members of the Senior Class and that one being Kevin Wenger.

Given a four-year time span it isn't difficult to understand that 371 people could, within that group, know one another if only in passing.

The death of Kevin Wenger touched every senior, even if that senior 'just knew who he was,' for Kevin was a part of a group of kids that were at the end of four of the most difficult years of their lives and the beginning of the rest of their lives. In that sense Kevin never got started.

It's hard to accept the death of a youth. Most of the time spent in funeral homes is to see grandparents, great aunts and uncles—old people—people who have lived 60 or 70 years. Are 17 years enough? If you live them to the fullest they are. That's one of the nice things we can remember about Kevin.

Kevin Wenger

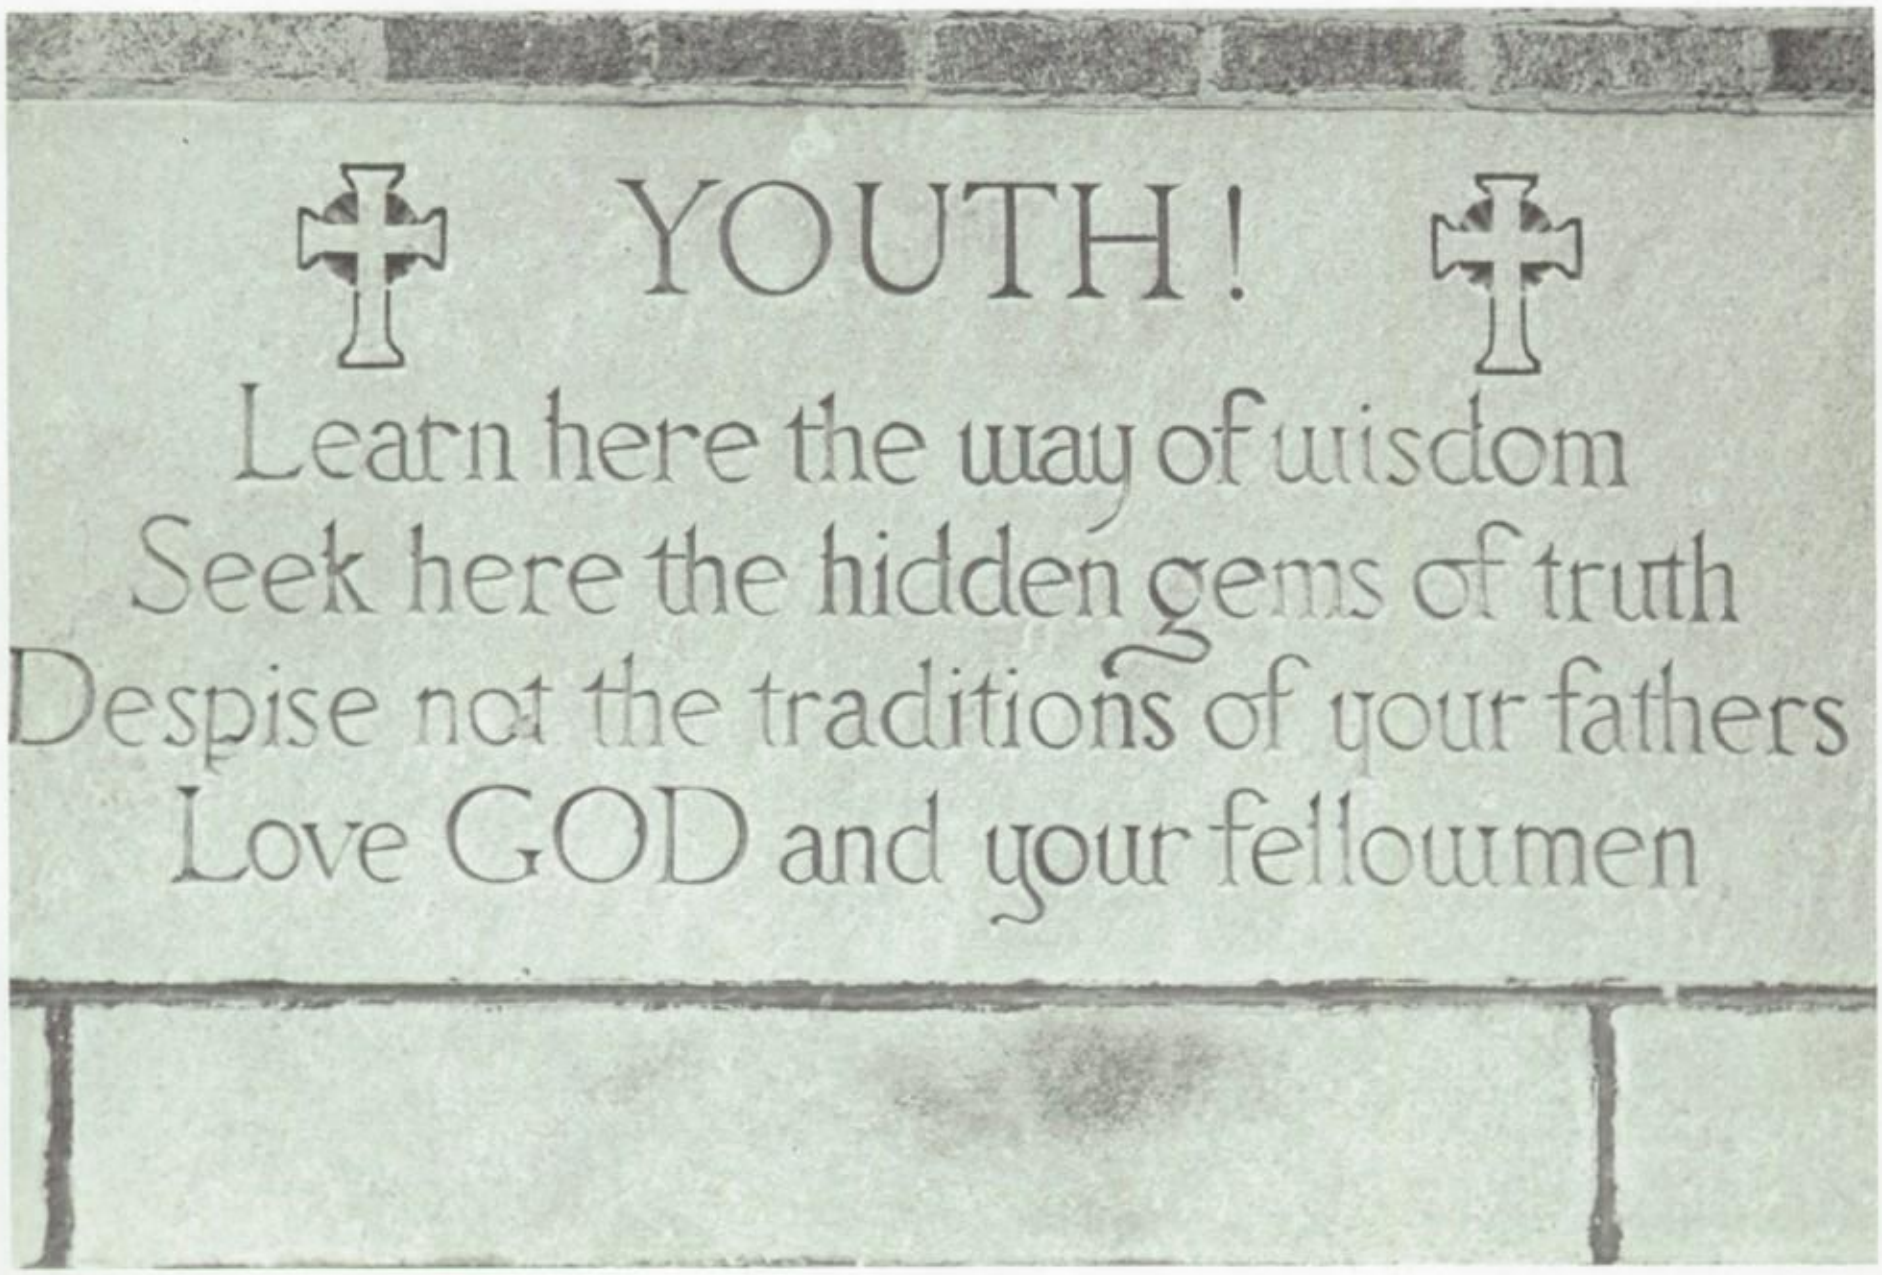
Irish spirit goes city wide as ad circulates area to psyche out opponent. Right: Senior Don Dartt's voice echoes throughout Central.



YOUTH!
Learn here the way of wisdom
Seek here the hidden gems of truth
Despise not the traditions of your fathers
Love GOD and your fellowmen
